Just a Glance...

Graduation is so close and college seems so near.

All activities are geared for bigger things and it's exciting.

All eyes are focused ahead and the future looks bright.

But don't forget.

Don't forget to look back at all the people who've helped. The people that seem so unimportant now that their job with you is done.

*They helped make you who you are,
were there in the hard times of growing up and shared in the fun.*

*Those who said: "Don't let your reach ever surpass your goal"
Just a glance,*

to let them know you realize their part and are thankful.

They don't want you to stop and talk awhile, they want to see you excel like they know you can.

*They want you to believe all the times that they said:
"You can do it. You're good enough."*

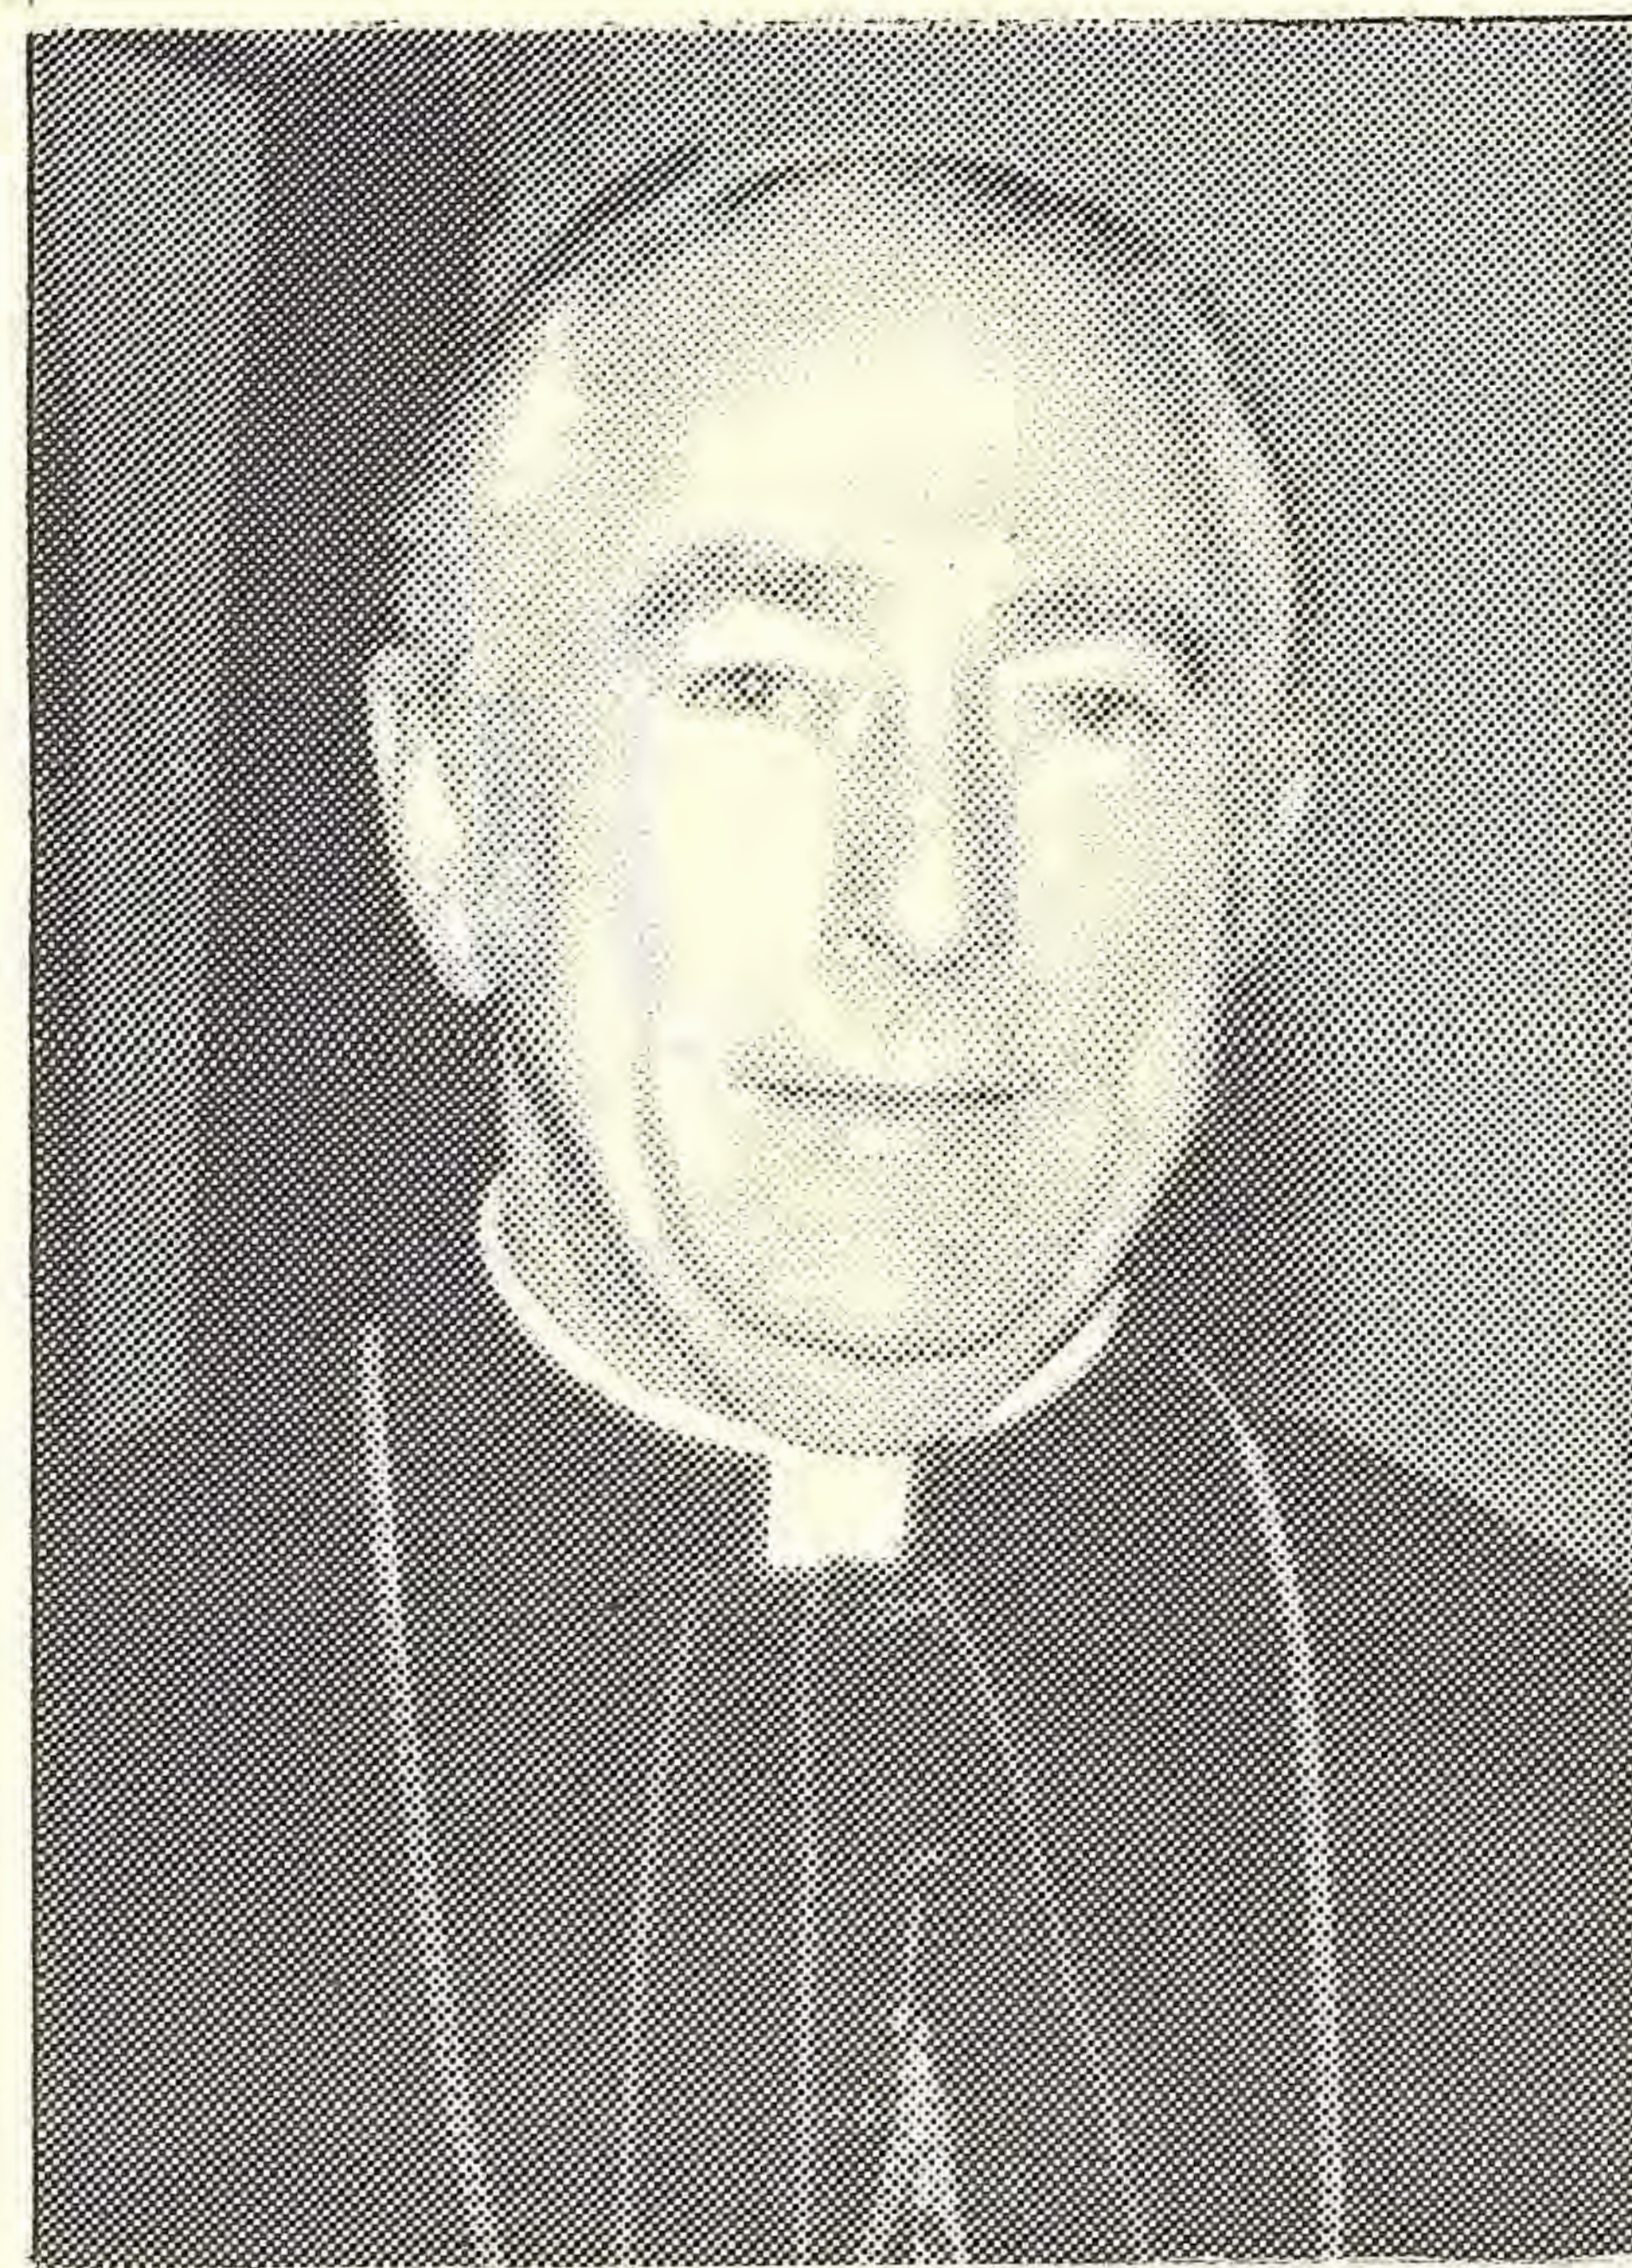

Just a glance.

*To let them know you remember.
To let them know you care...*

AT ST. JOE'S

THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE

Fr. James Kowalski
Academic Coordinator

Fr. Ted Kozlowski
Rector

Fr. Don Heydens
Spiritual Coordinator

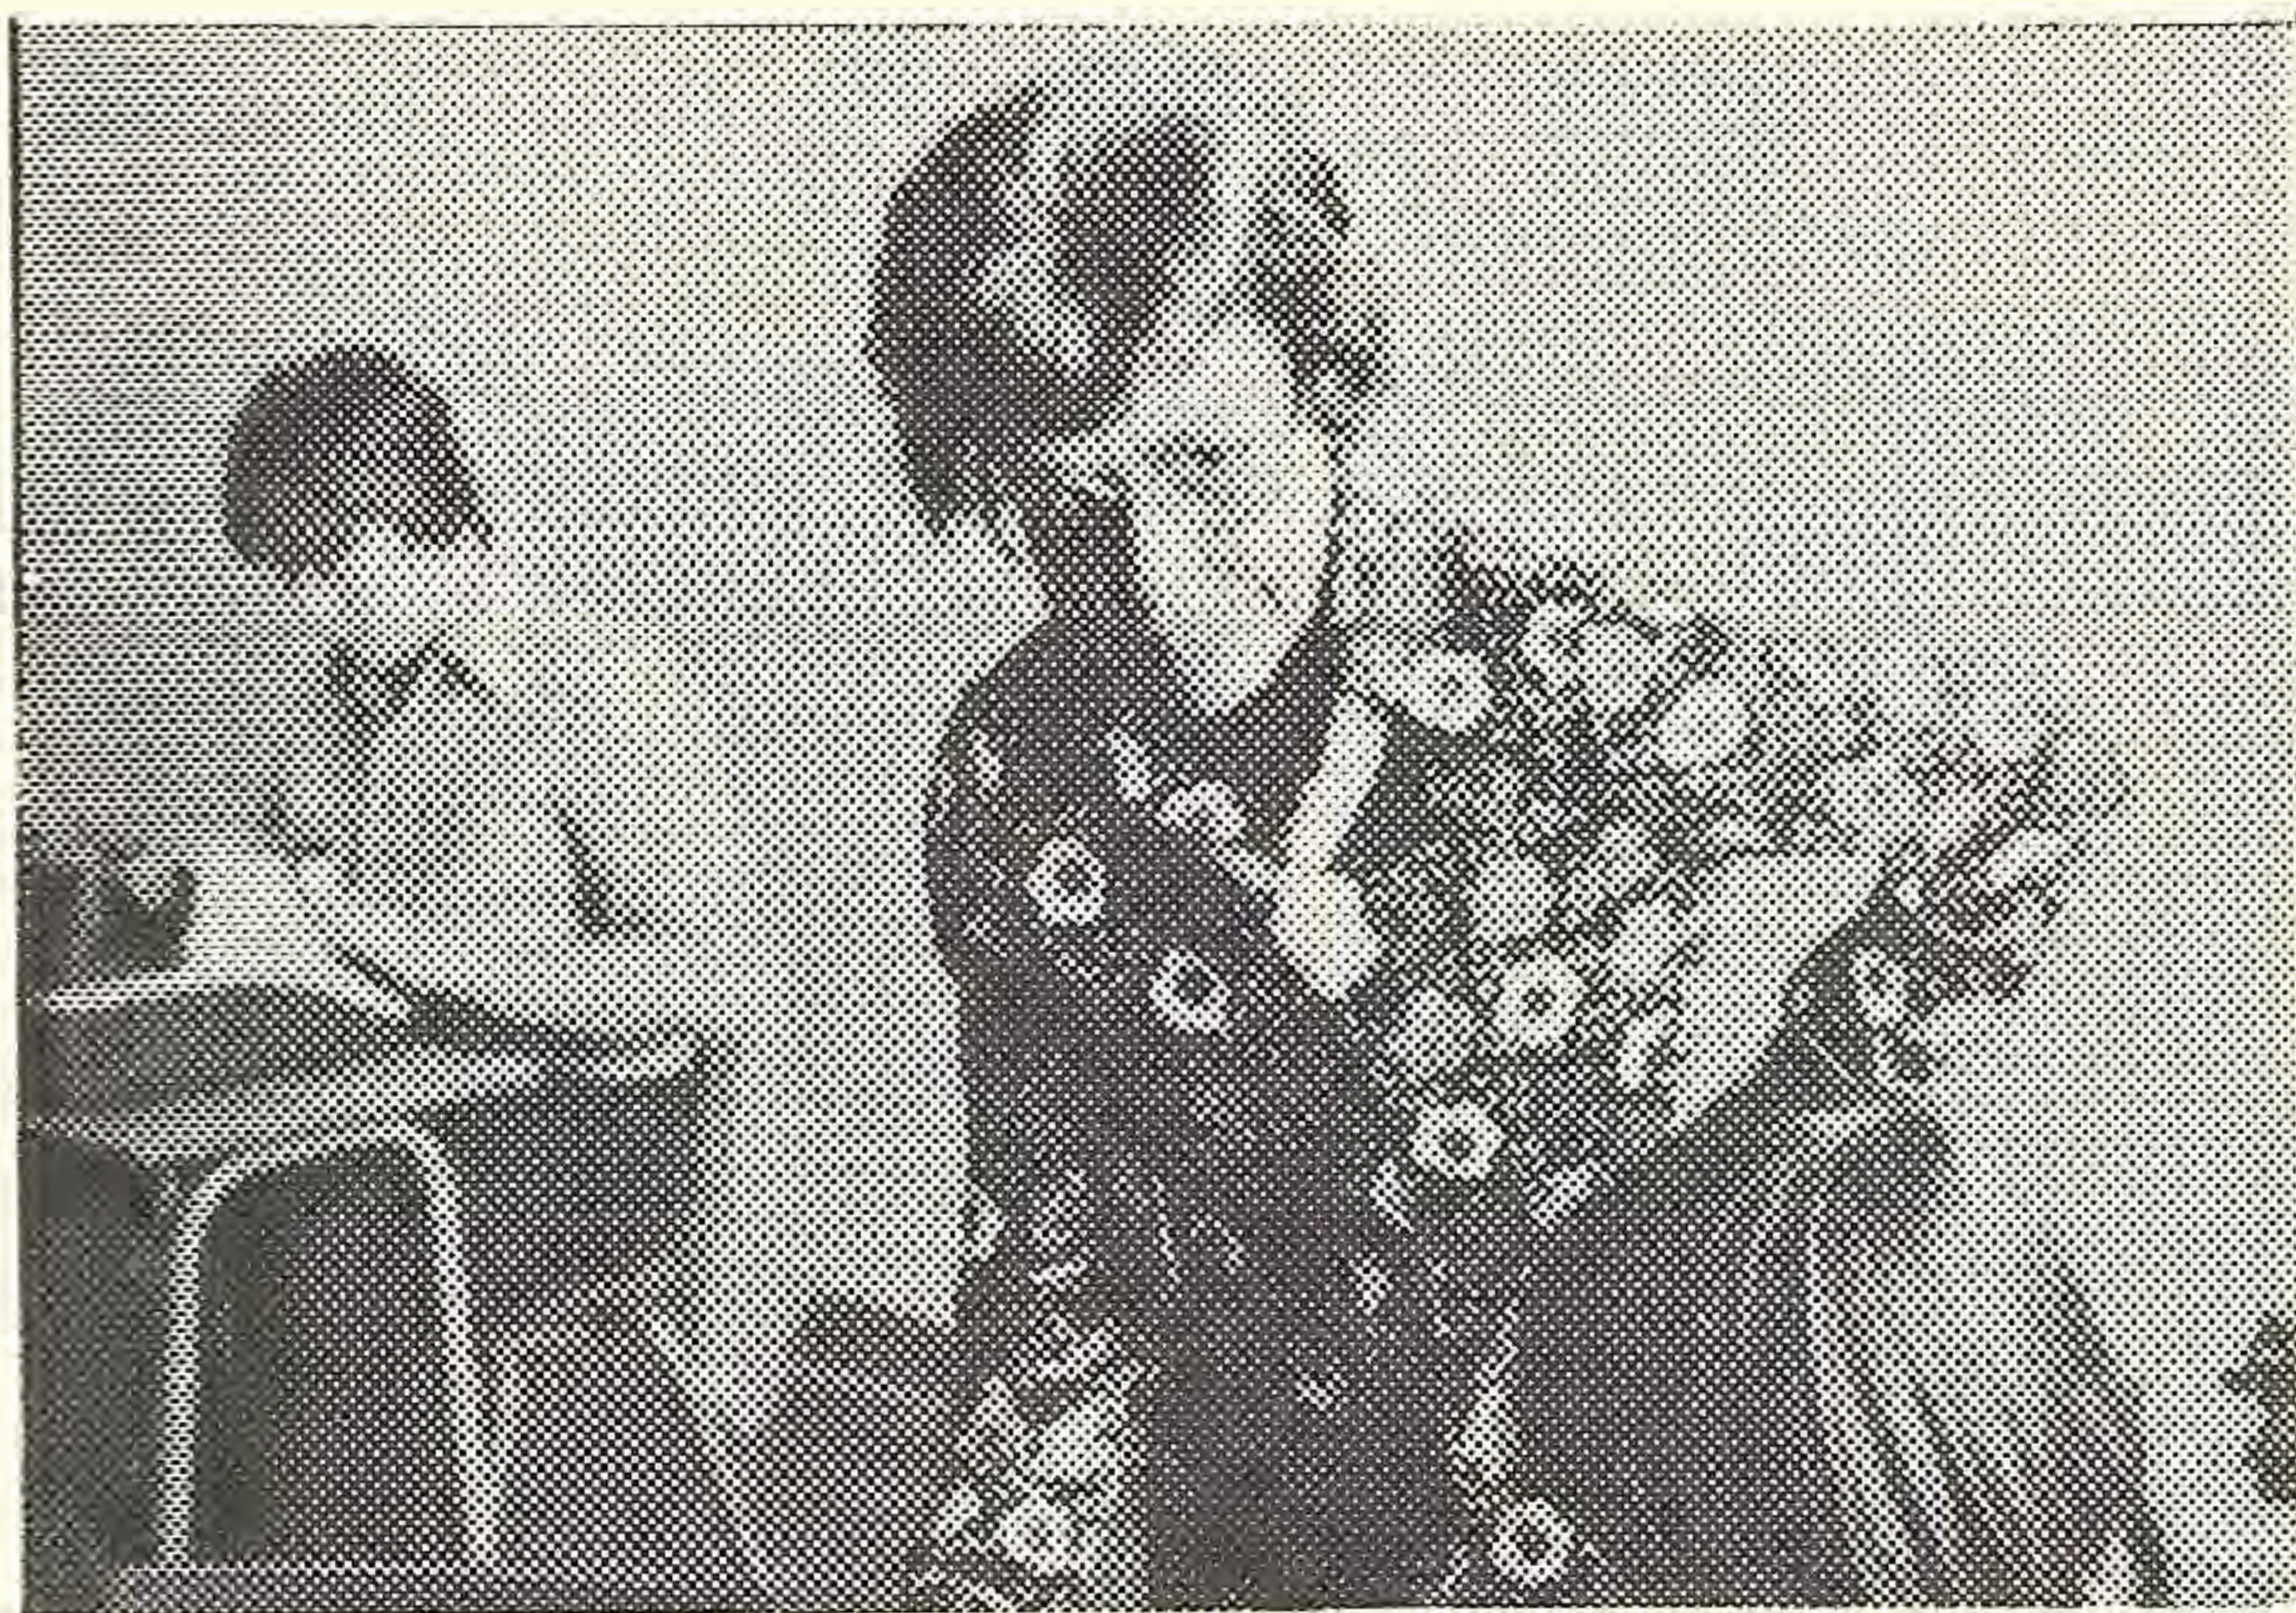

The Formation Team has survived another year. Suffering all the trials and tribulations of living so closely with 43 young men would seem to drive one crazy, but they managed.

In their plans for next year, Fr. Ted reveals

"I think we'll field a hockey team."

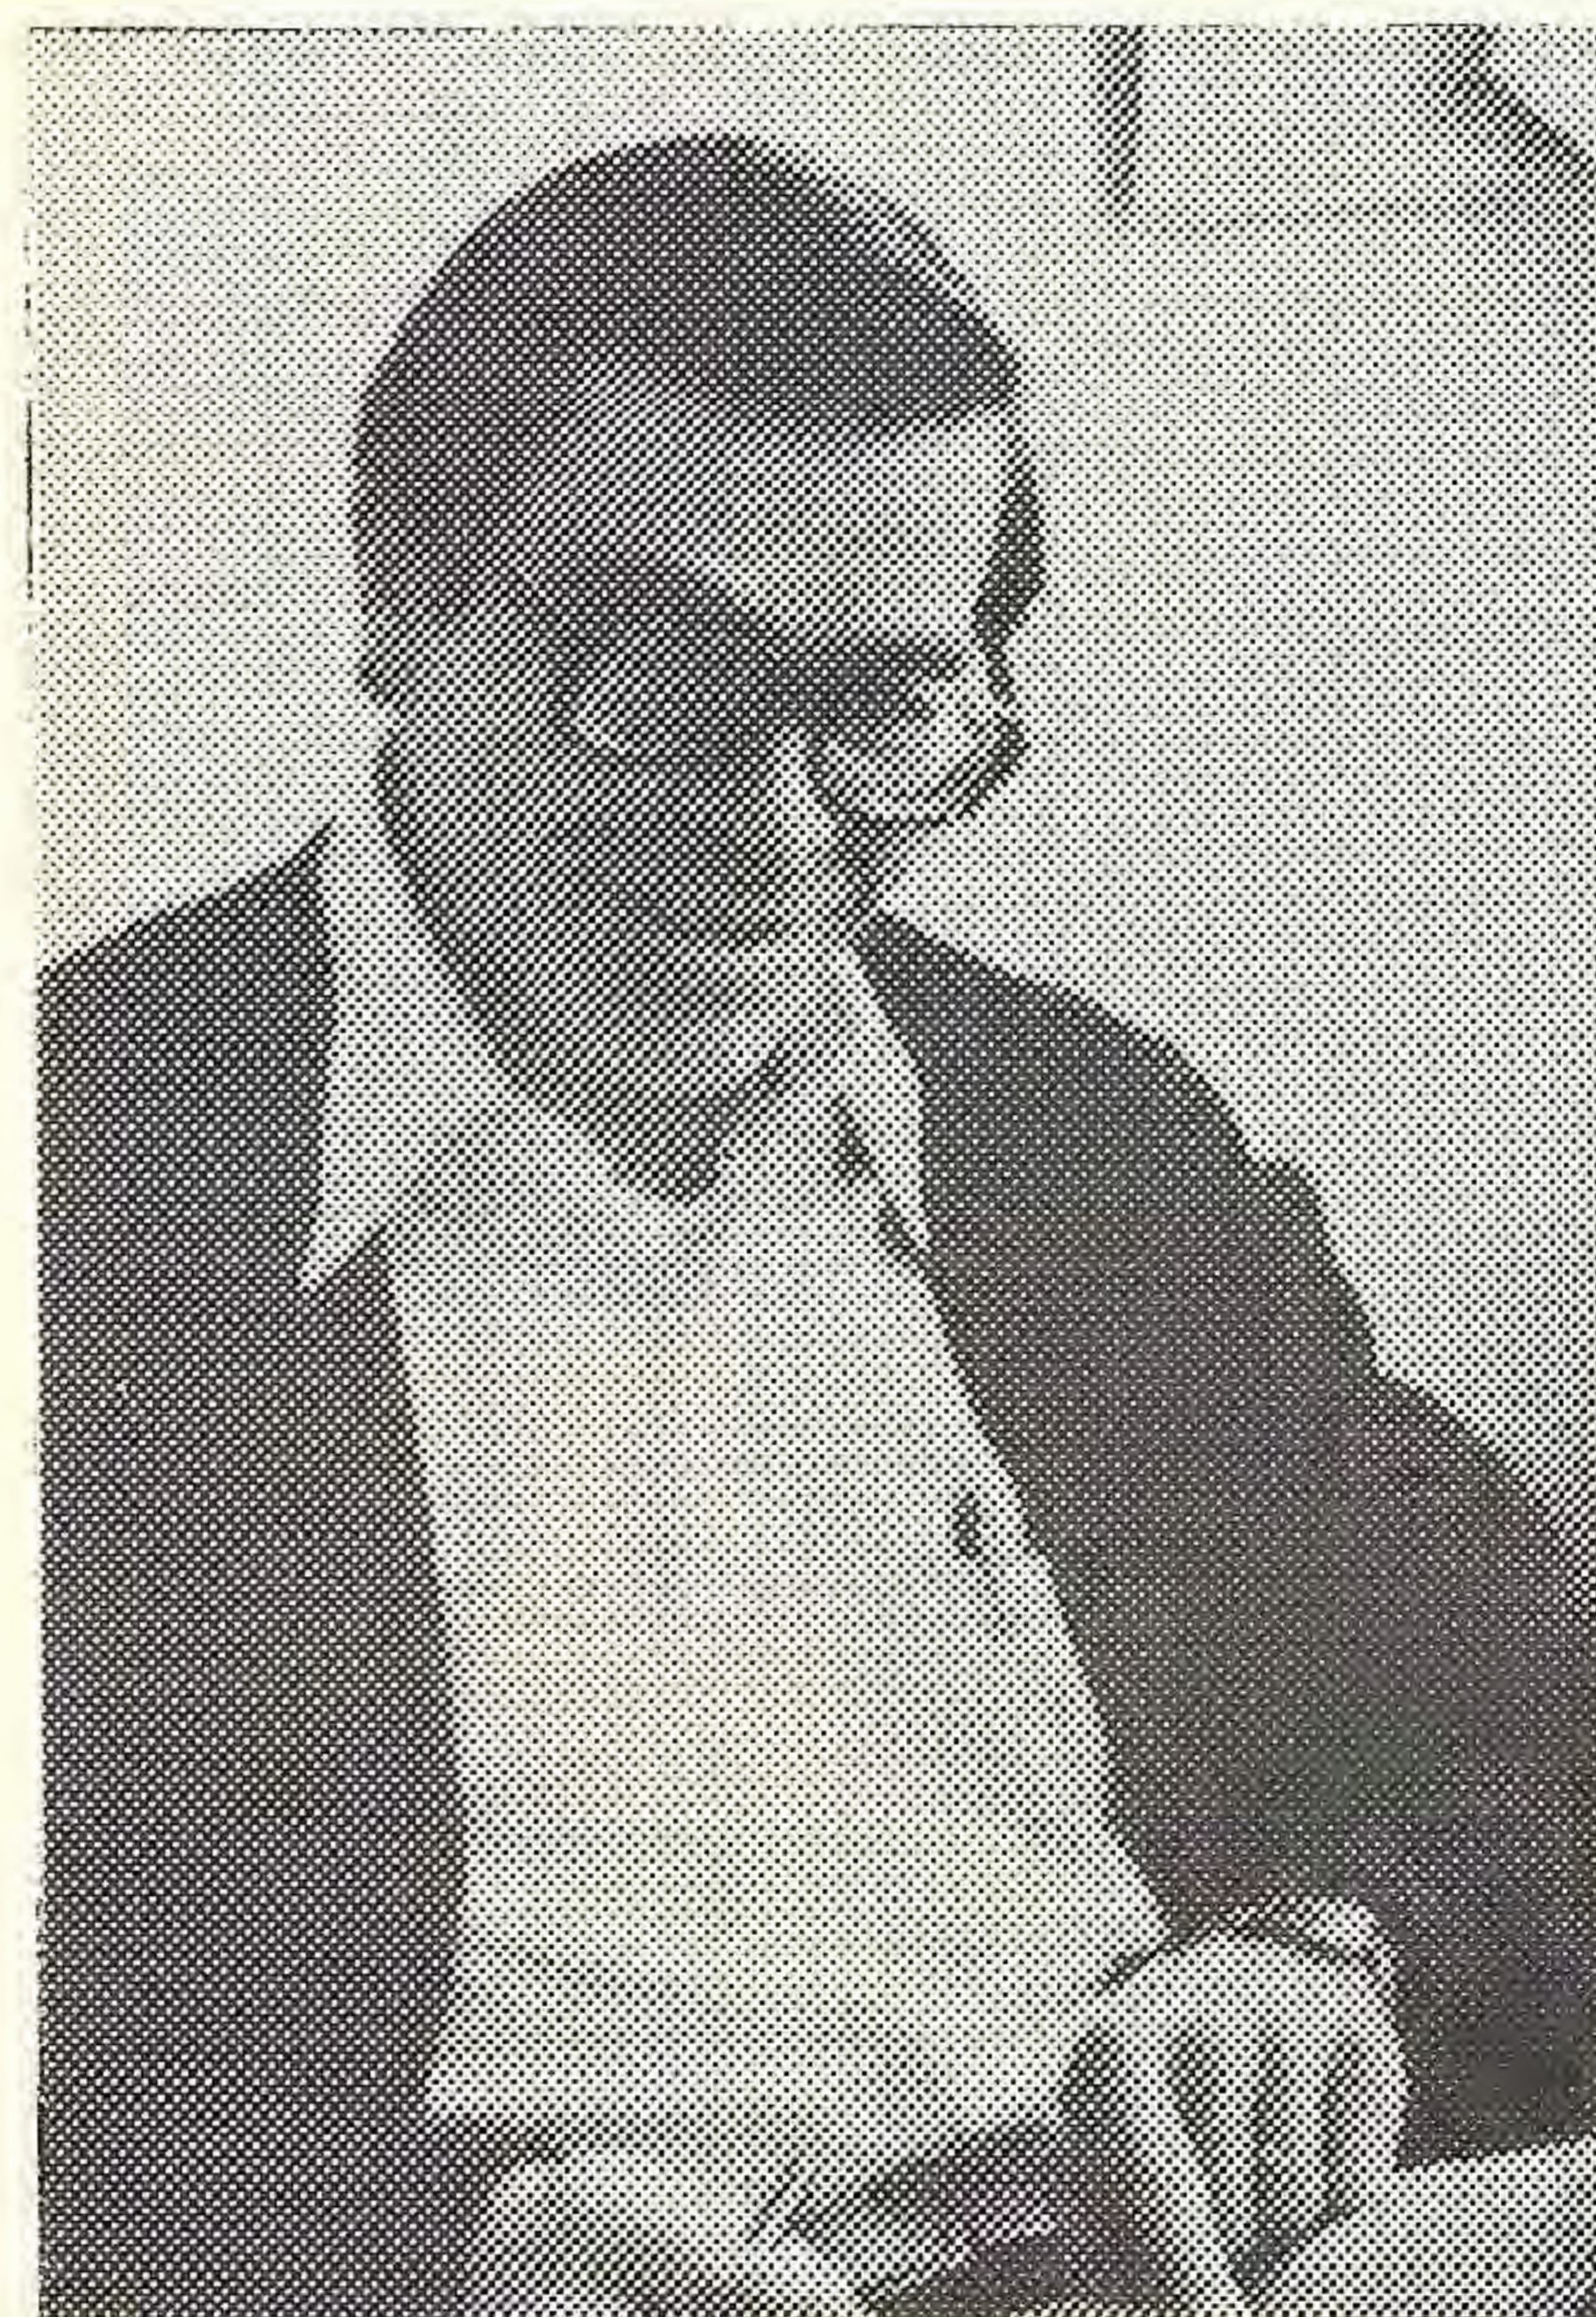

Field...Hockey, Field Hockey, get it?

AND FACULTY

Lois Jones

"Fingers on the home row of keys" is a familiar expression to all the students. Mrs. Jones has had everyone in her typing class at one time or another, and each student can tell fascinating stories about the time spent learning the art of typing.

Joe Ksiazkiewicz

Mr. K. was voted the most well liked Latin teacher at St. Joe's this year. Most of the Latin scholars said they would never forget his class, for one reason or another. Mr. K also served as assistant to the principal.

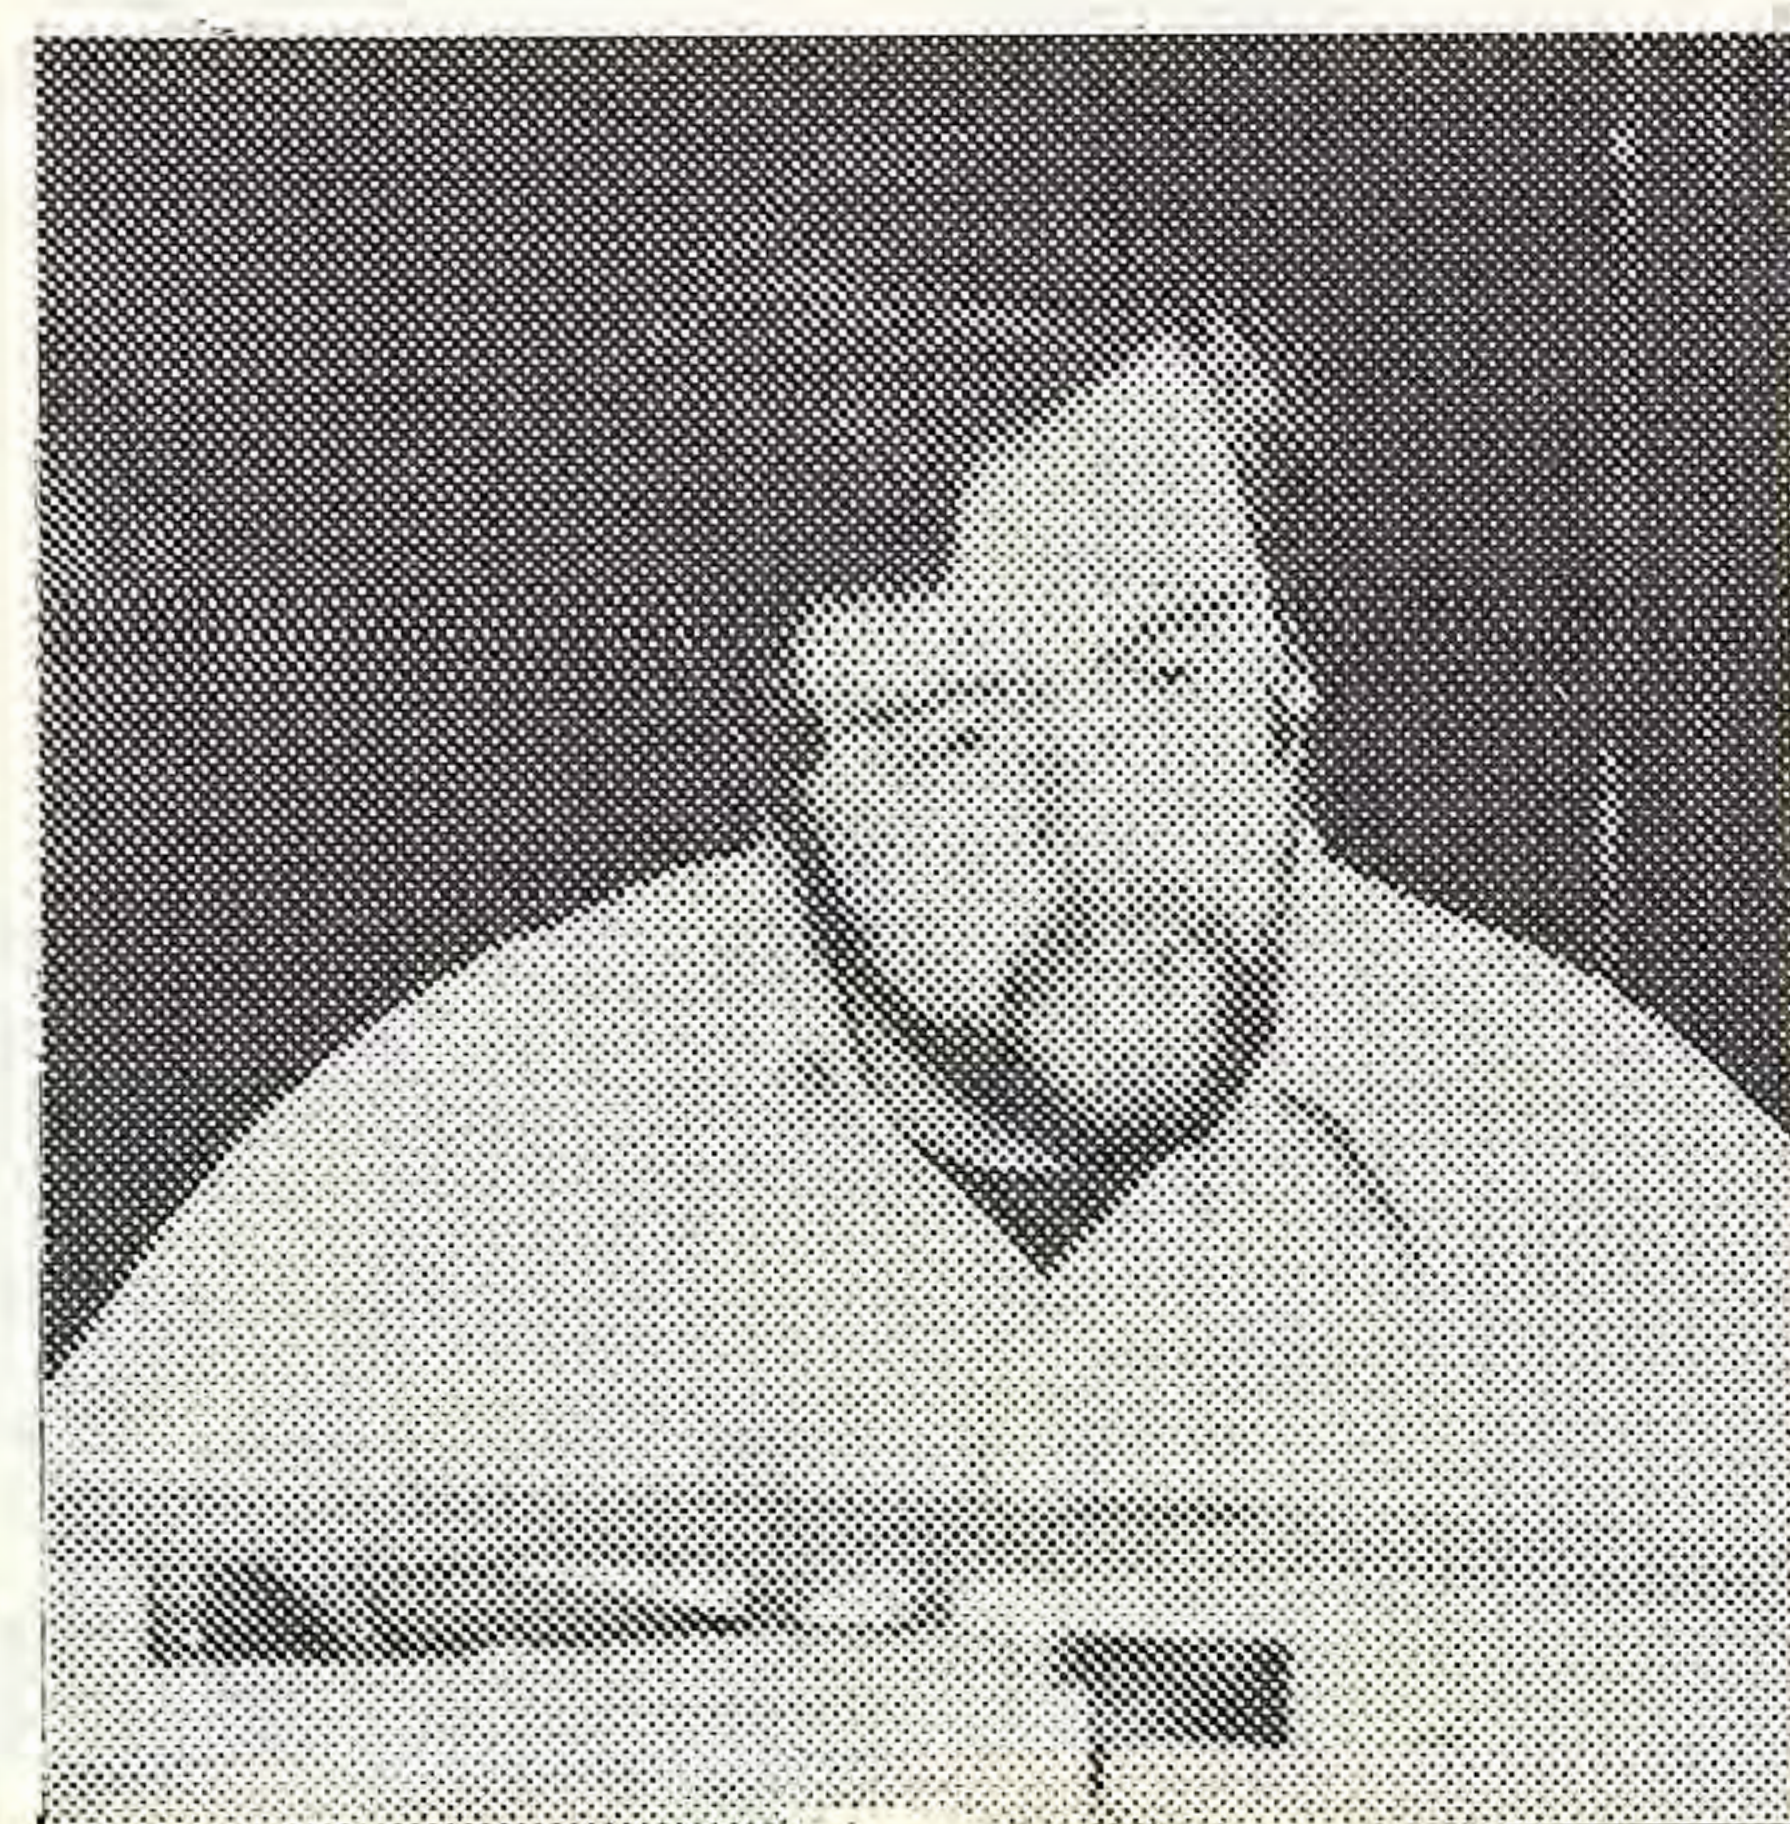

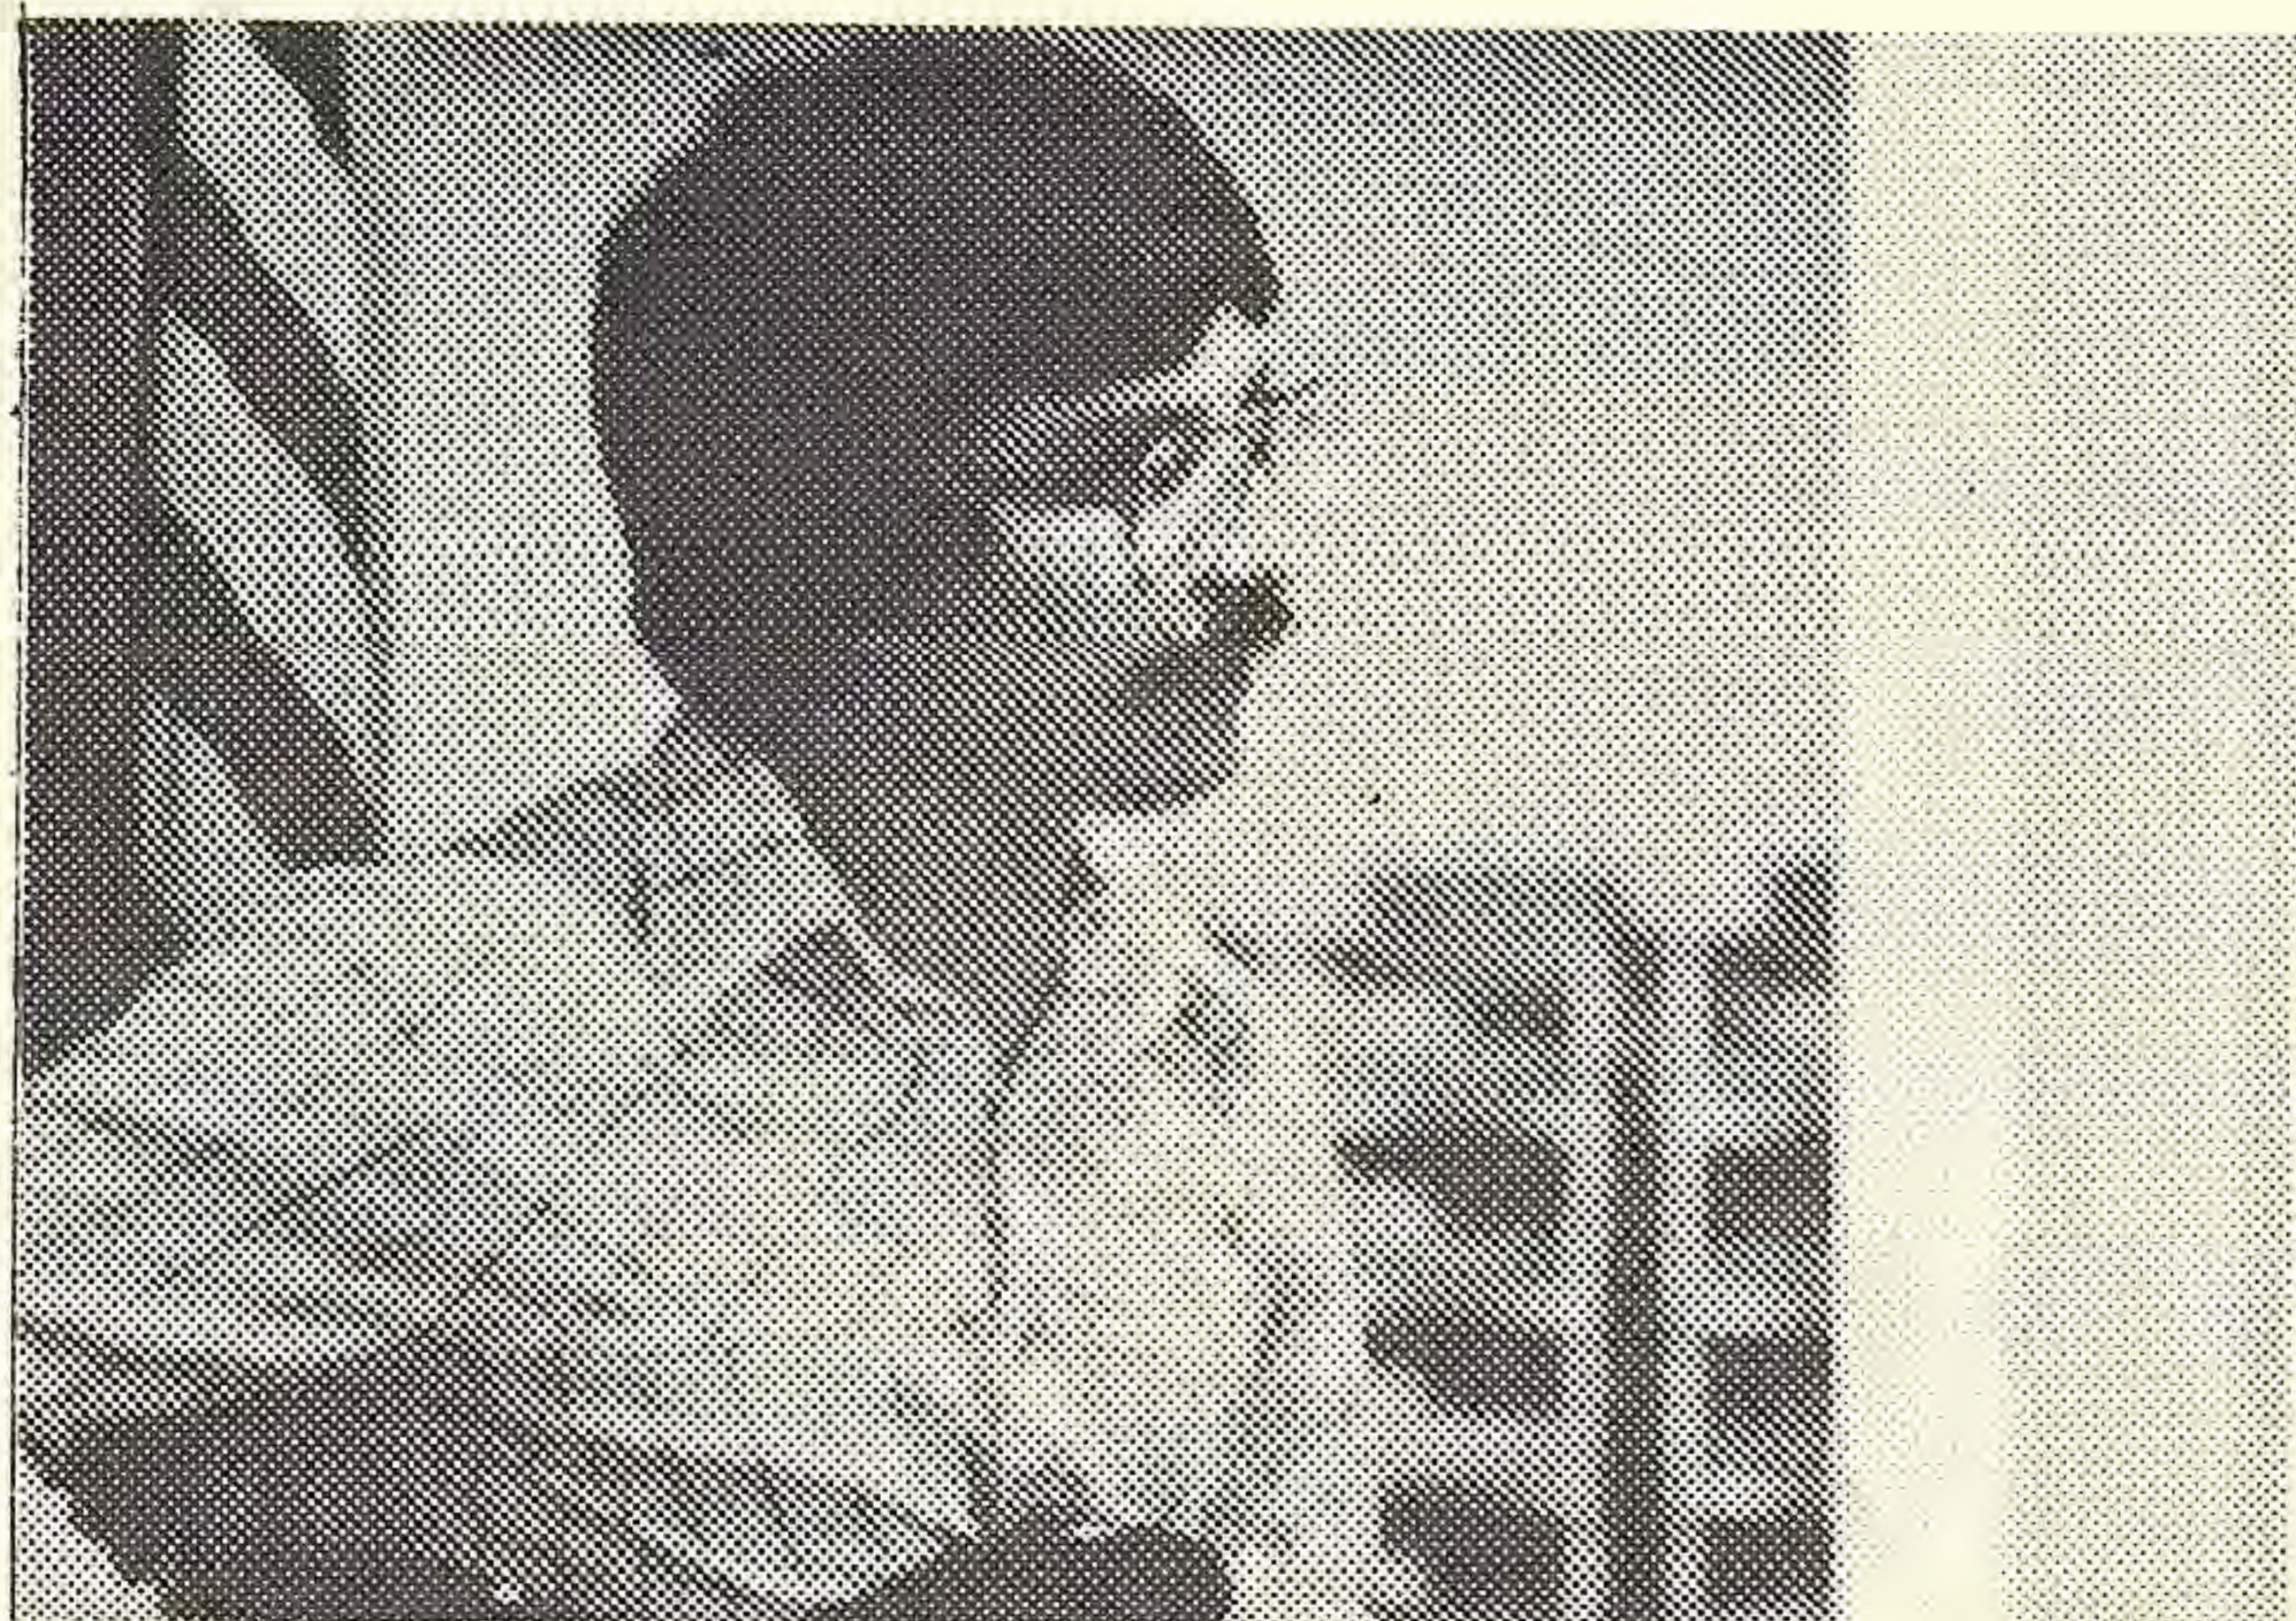

Marilyn Moore

If you happened to catch Mrs. Moore in her office six hours after school let out, it wouldn't shock you at all. Never was a face turned away who was struggling with a problem.

John W. Zimmerman

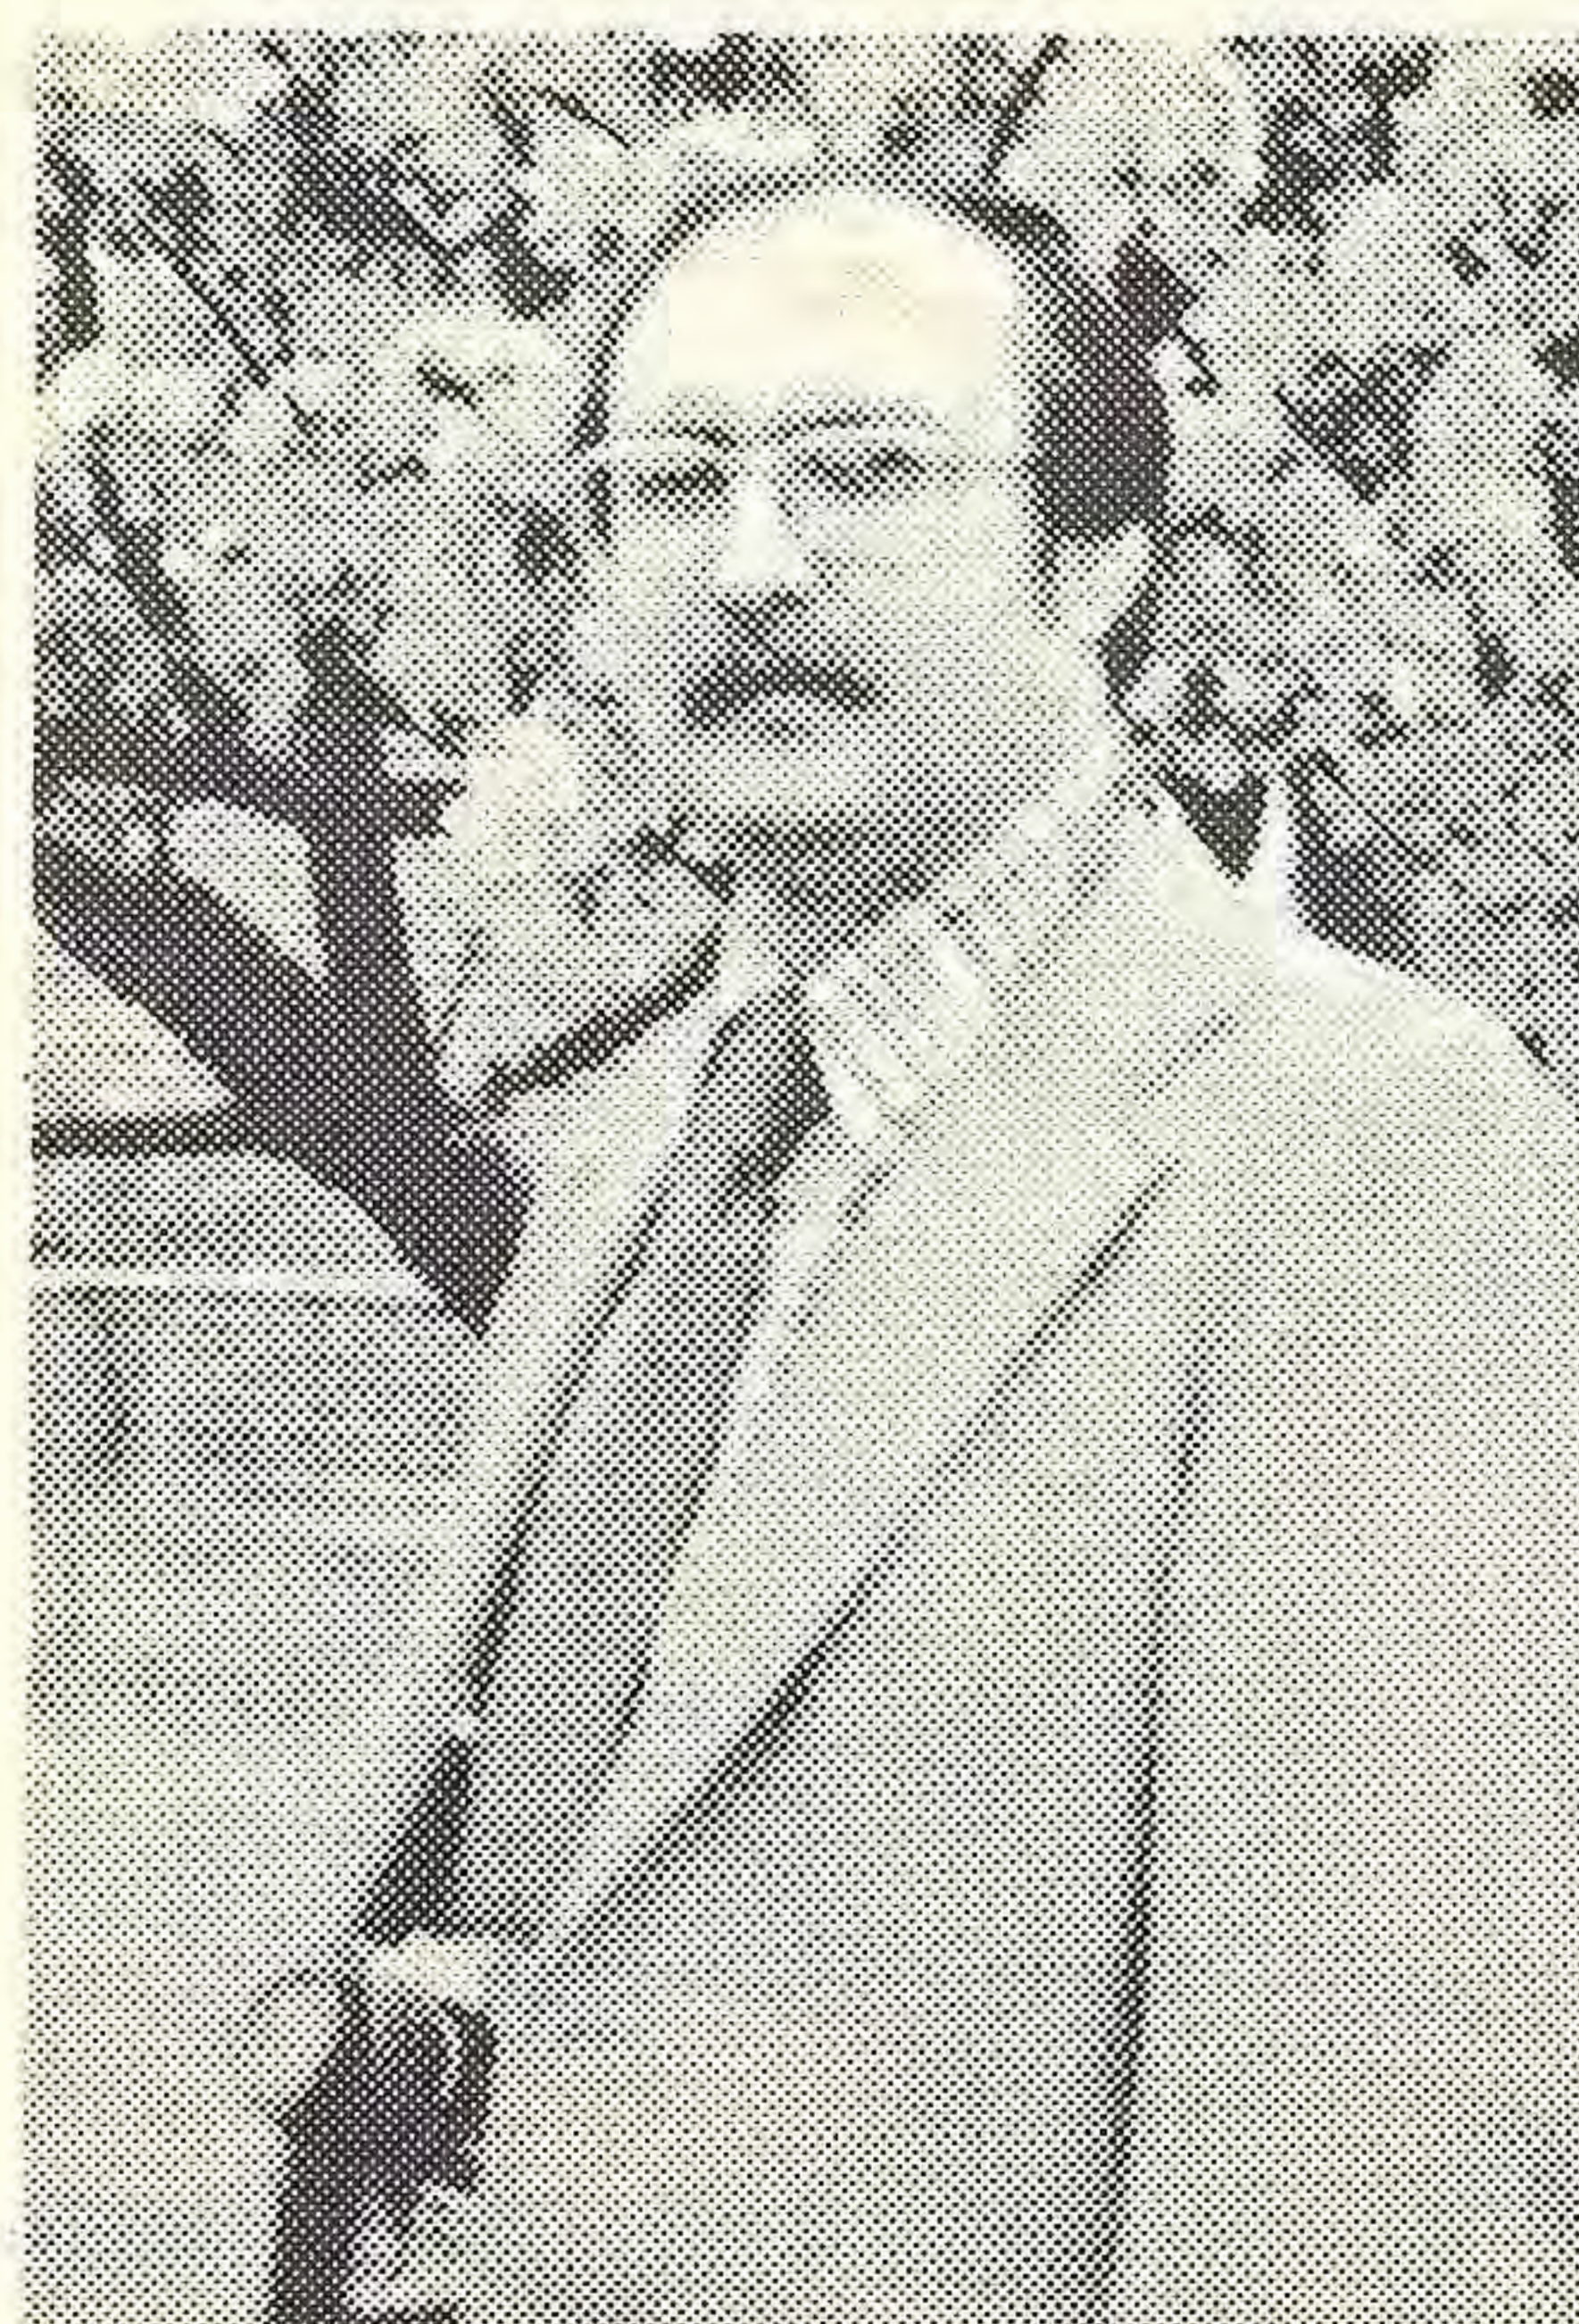

Mr. Z was in charge of all the musicians at St. Joe's. At the beginning of the school year the band was just a group of individuals playing their respective instruments. By the time school let out the band was receiving rare reviews from wherever it played.

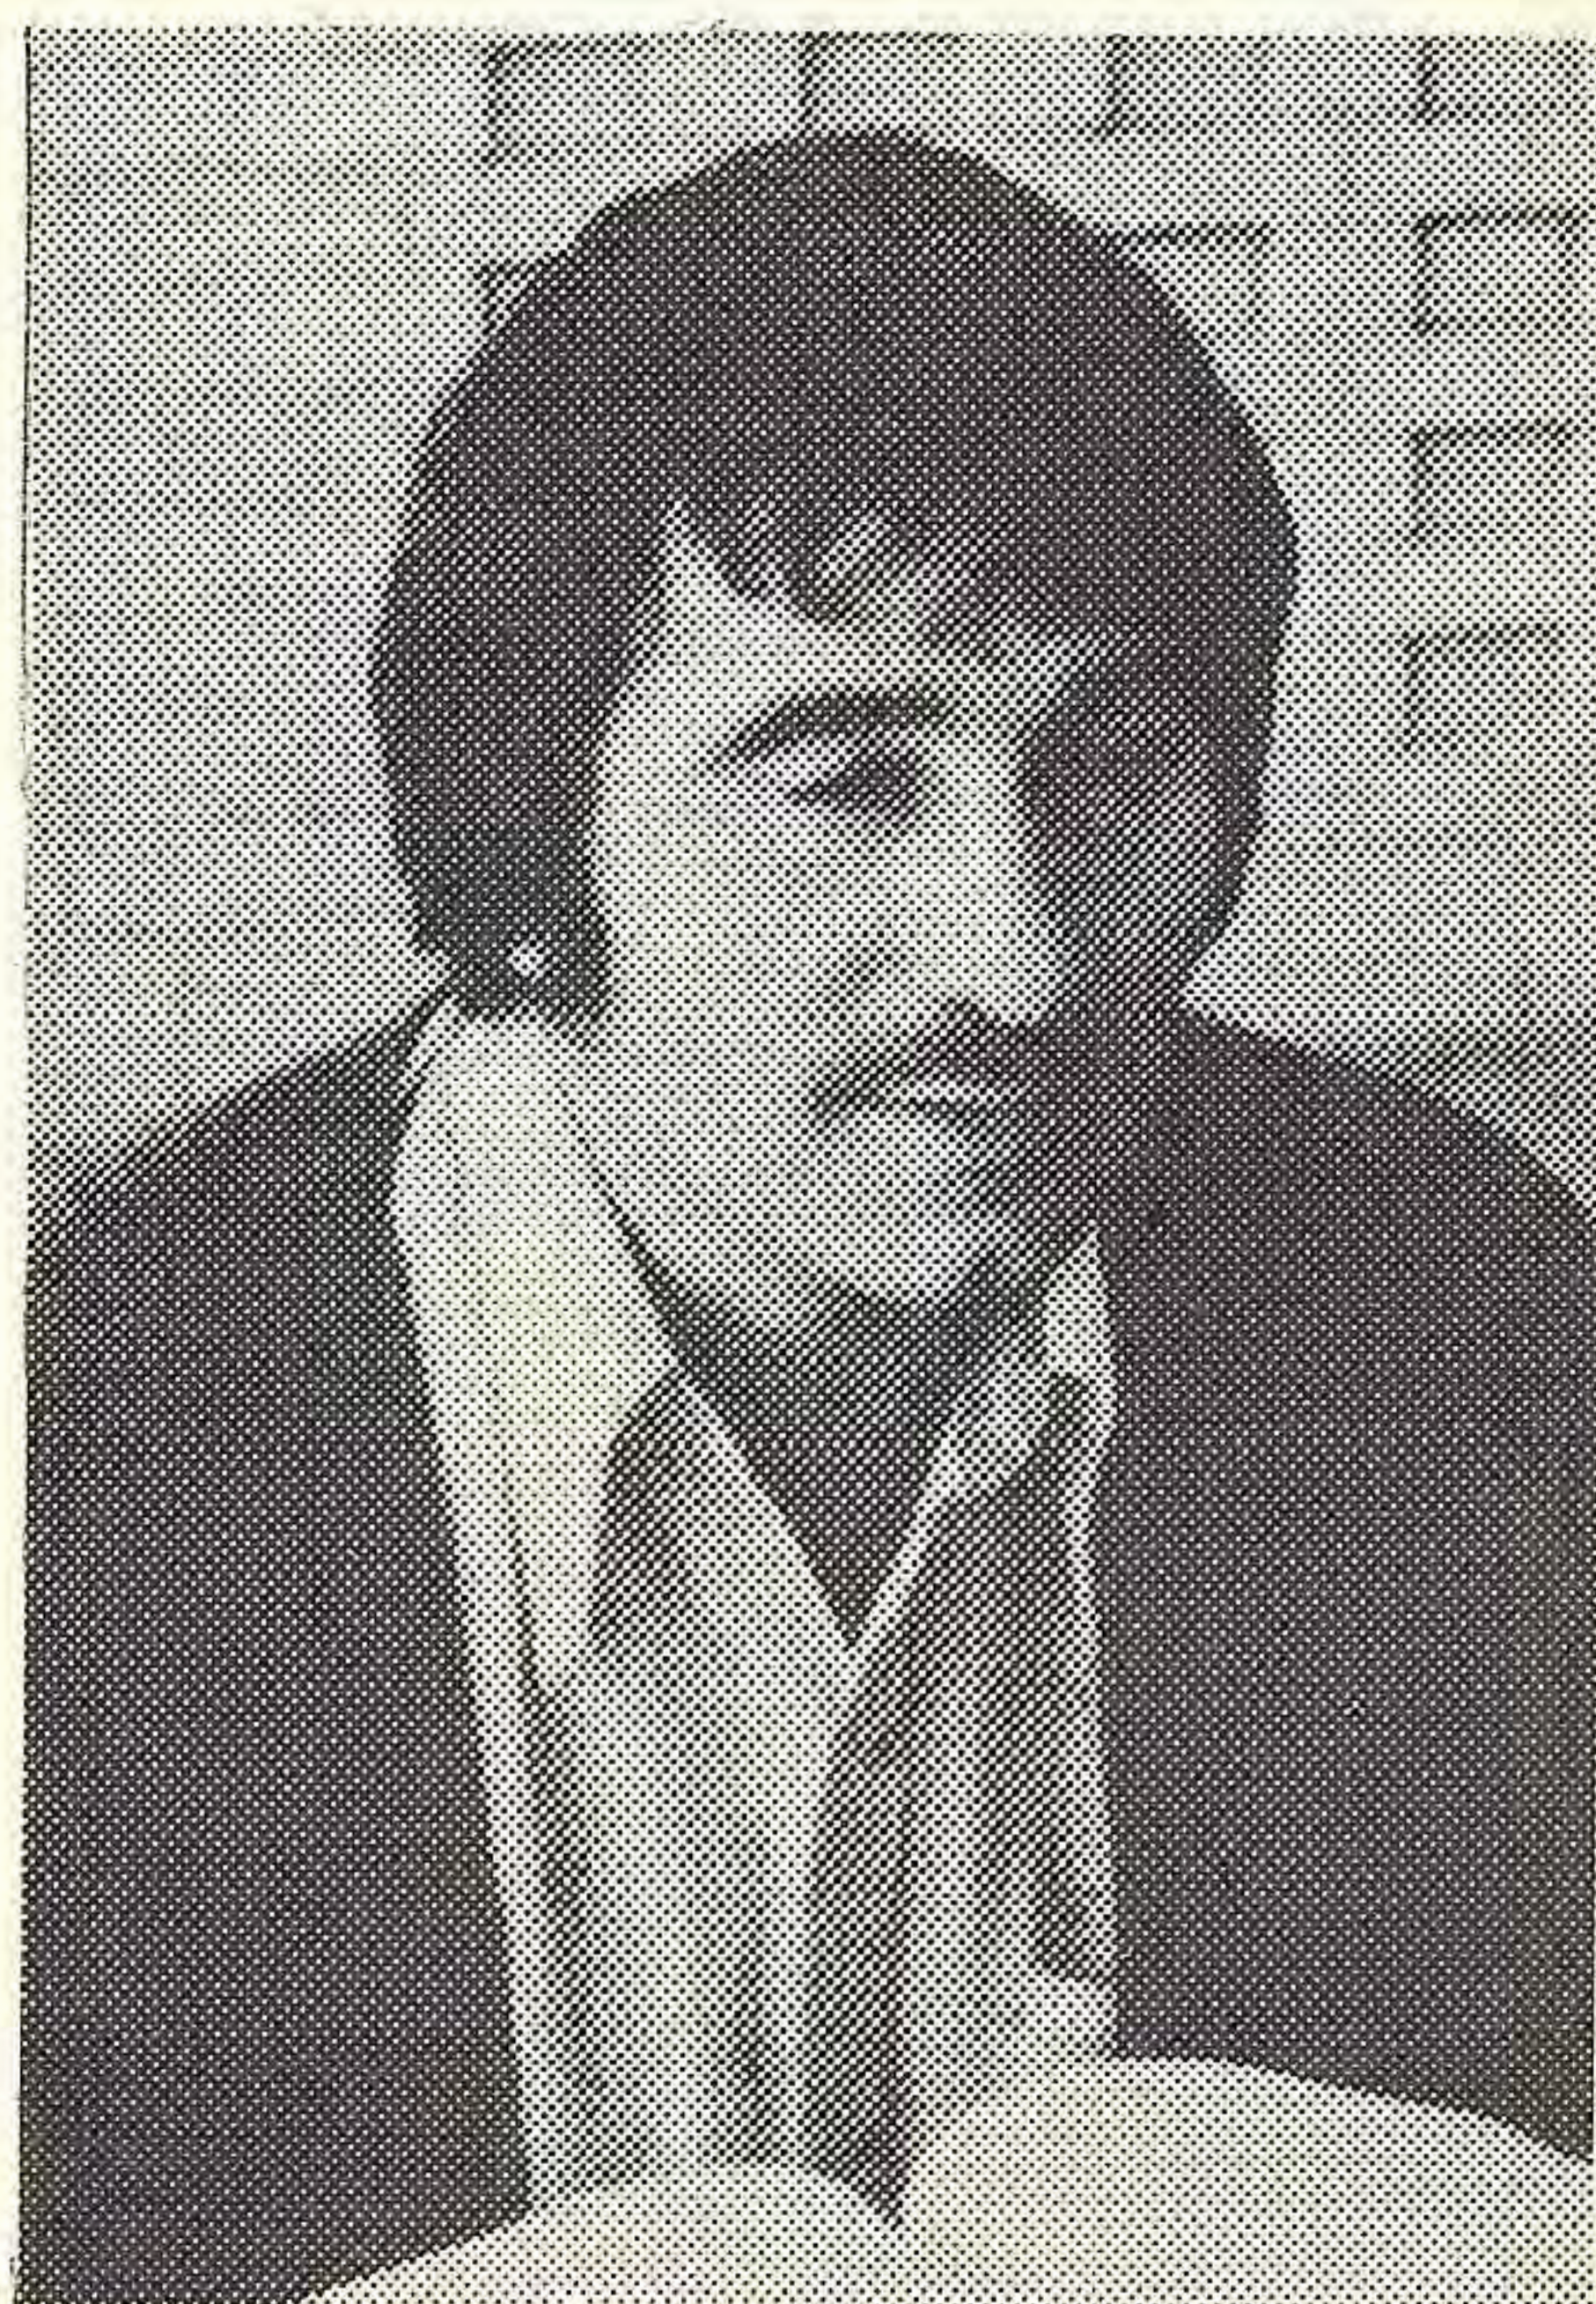

Larry Piechocki

Mr. Piechocki tried valiantly to teach U.S. History, but between his jokes and the time of the class (7:50 a.m.) the students just weren't up to it. Besides U.S. History, he taught World History and Humanities. Mr. Piechocki also served as Athletic Director, Freshmen basketball coach and varsity baseball coach.

Dan Pokora

Mr. Pokora wasn't seen very often. As the Photography teacher, he spent most of his time in the dark room.

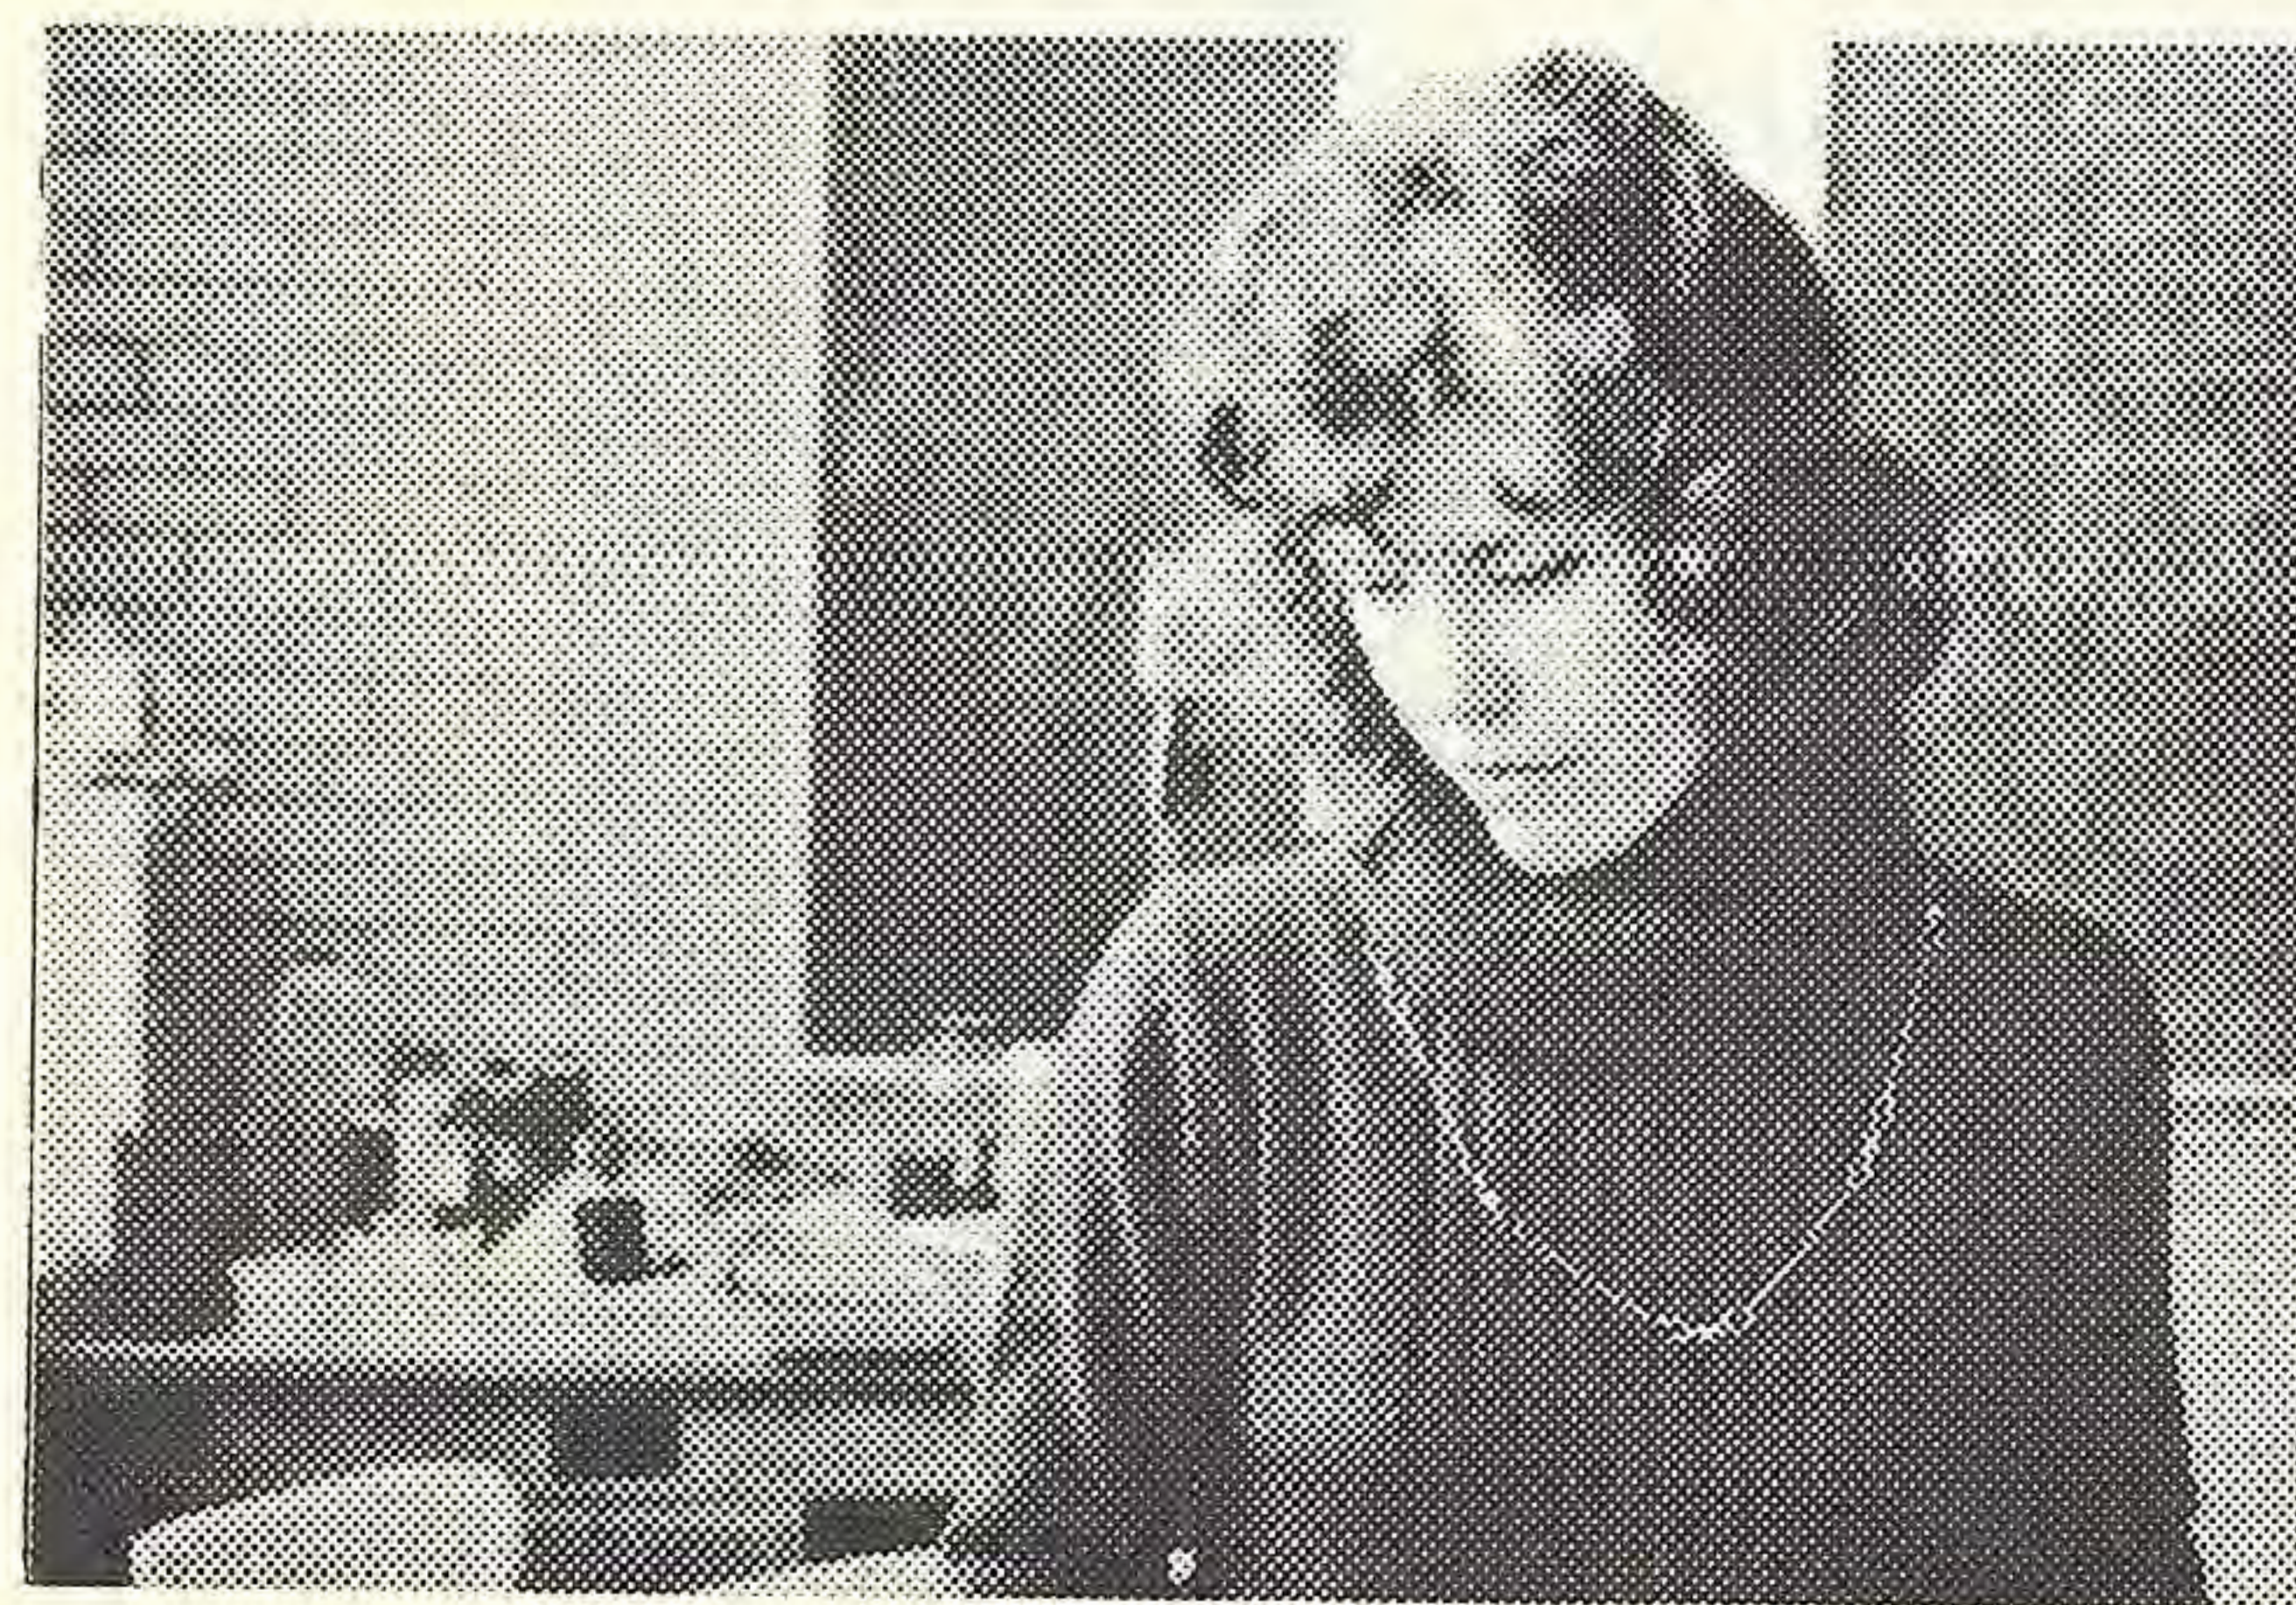

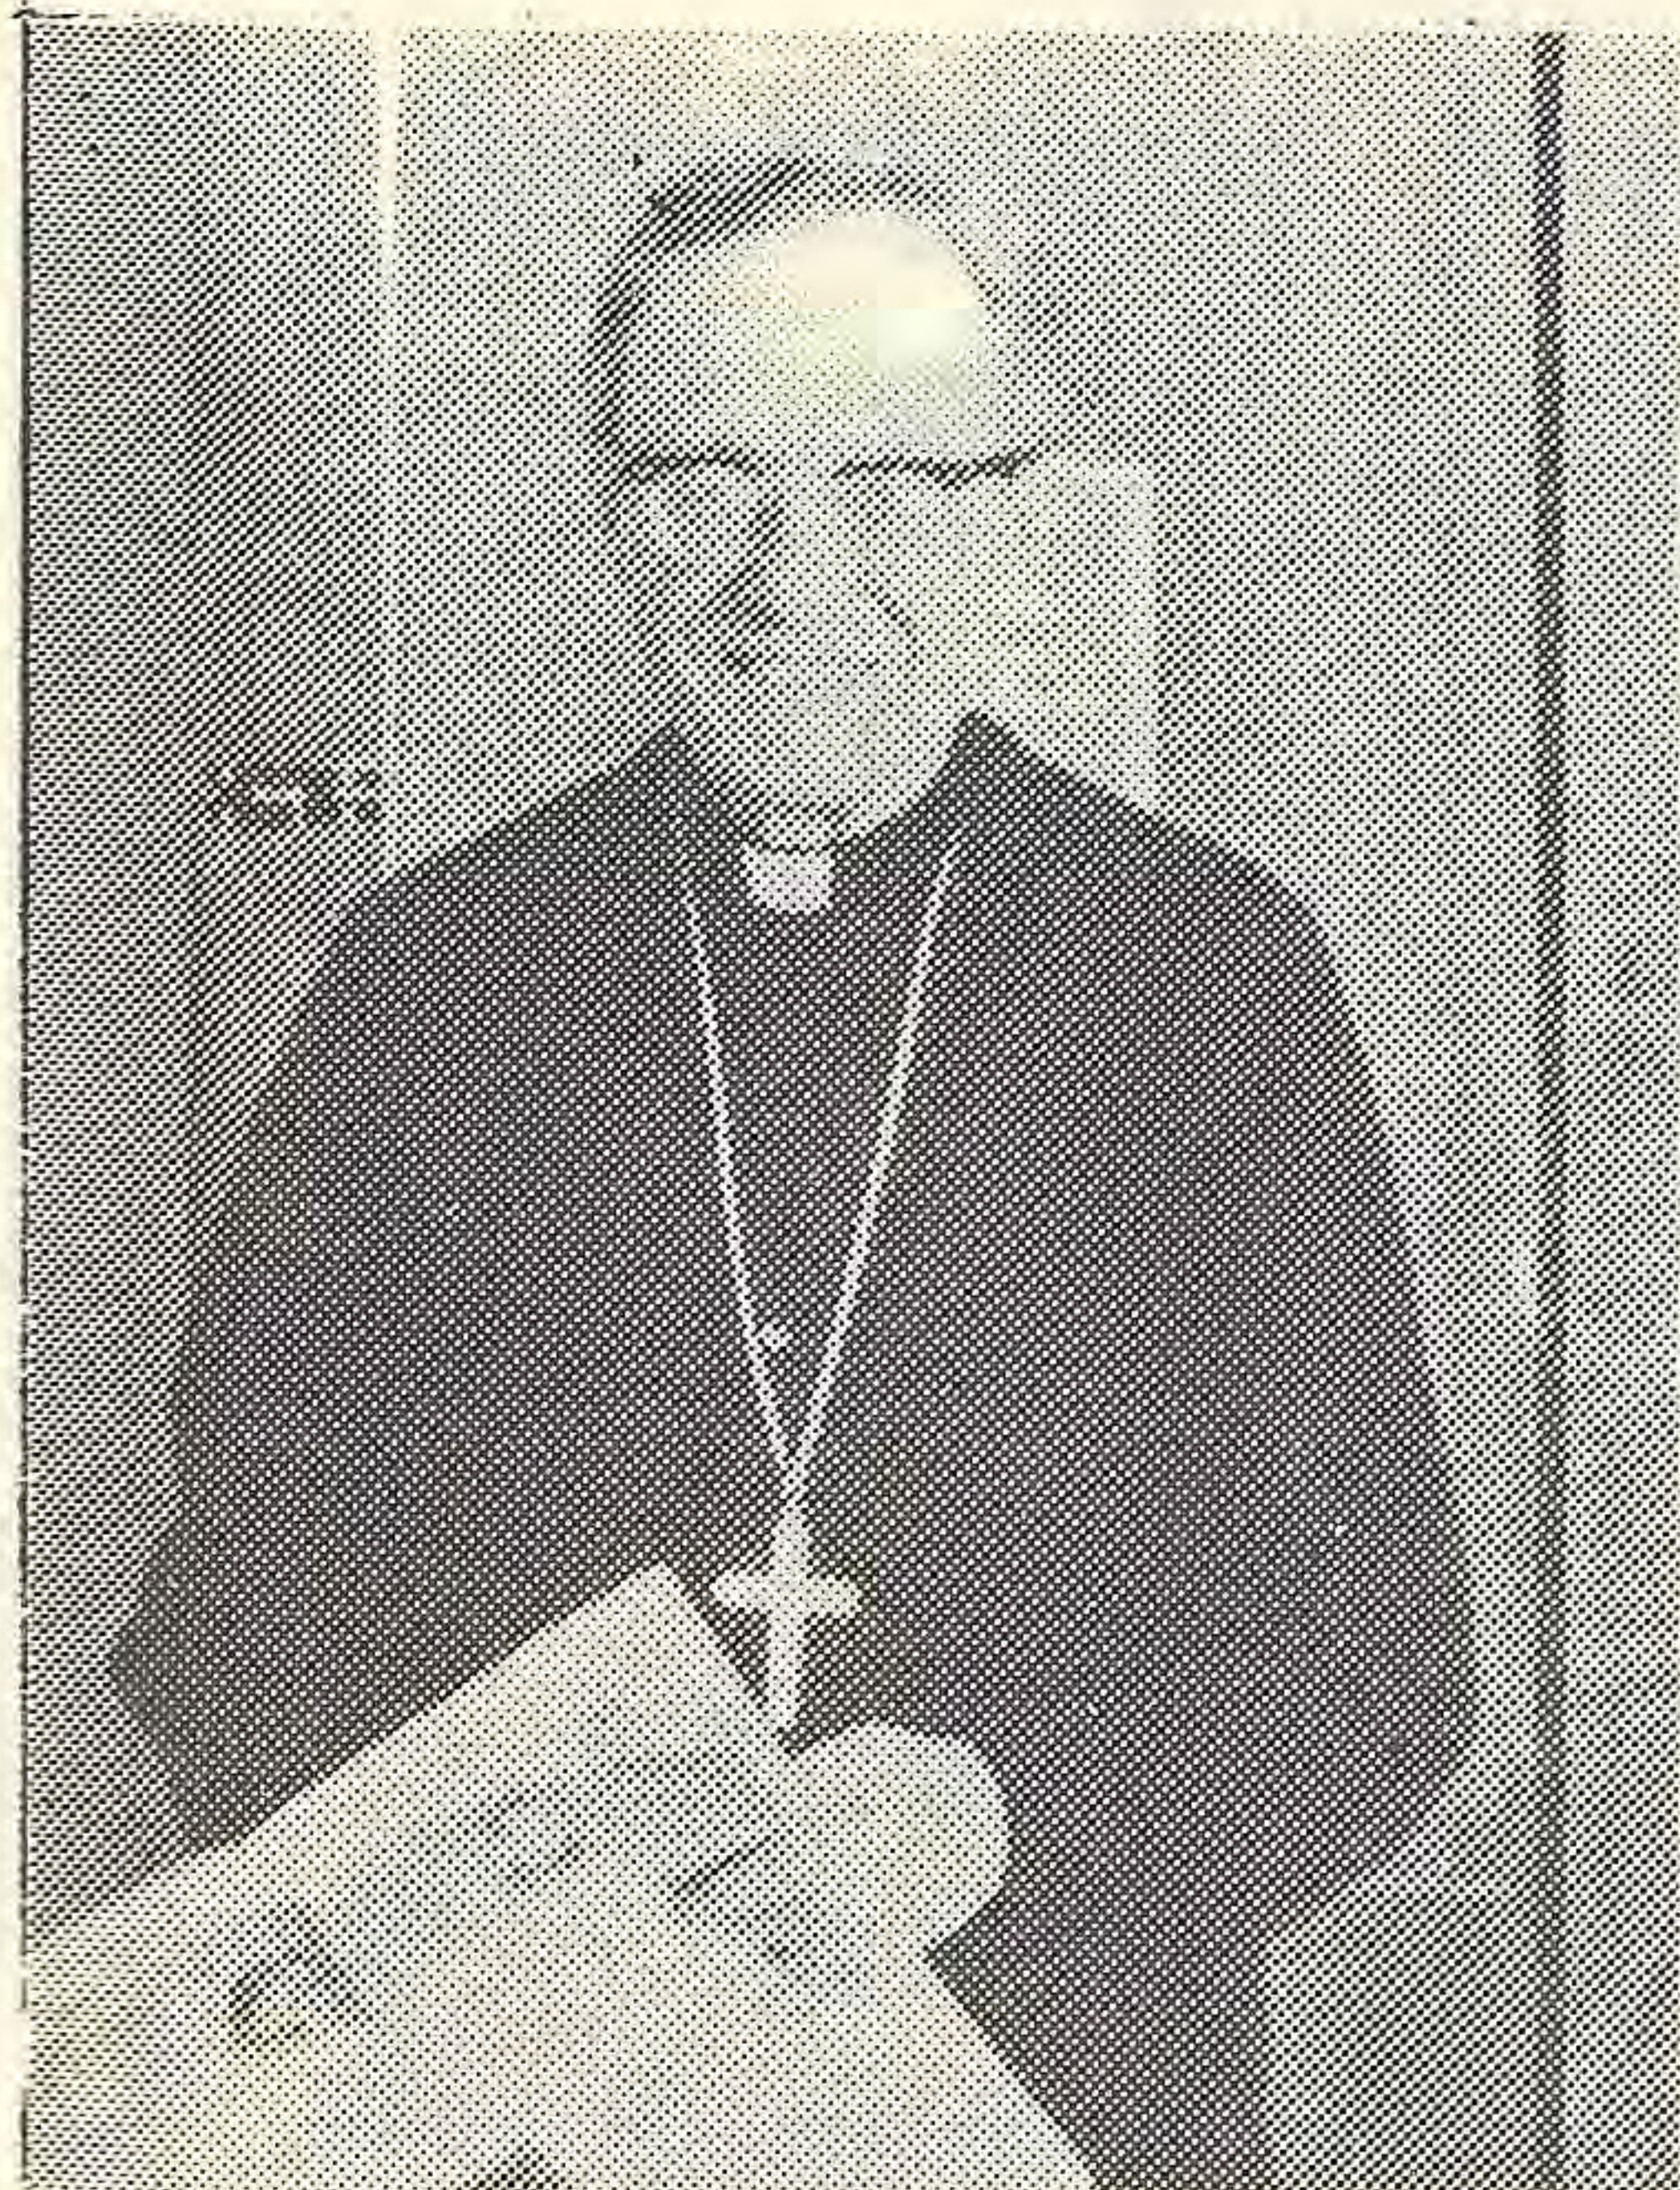

Anthony Scatturo

How many people do you know that turn down a contract with M.G.M., just so they can teach Spanish at St. Joe's? Mr. Scatturo did exactly that. The Spanish classes know all about this and feel proud to have had him as a teacher.

Karen Zdon

Mrs. Zdon was one of the new teachers this year, coming in to teach biology. Not many sophomores found biology easy, but they learned what was taught. Maybe someday the world will read how a St. Joe's biologist discovered a new food source.

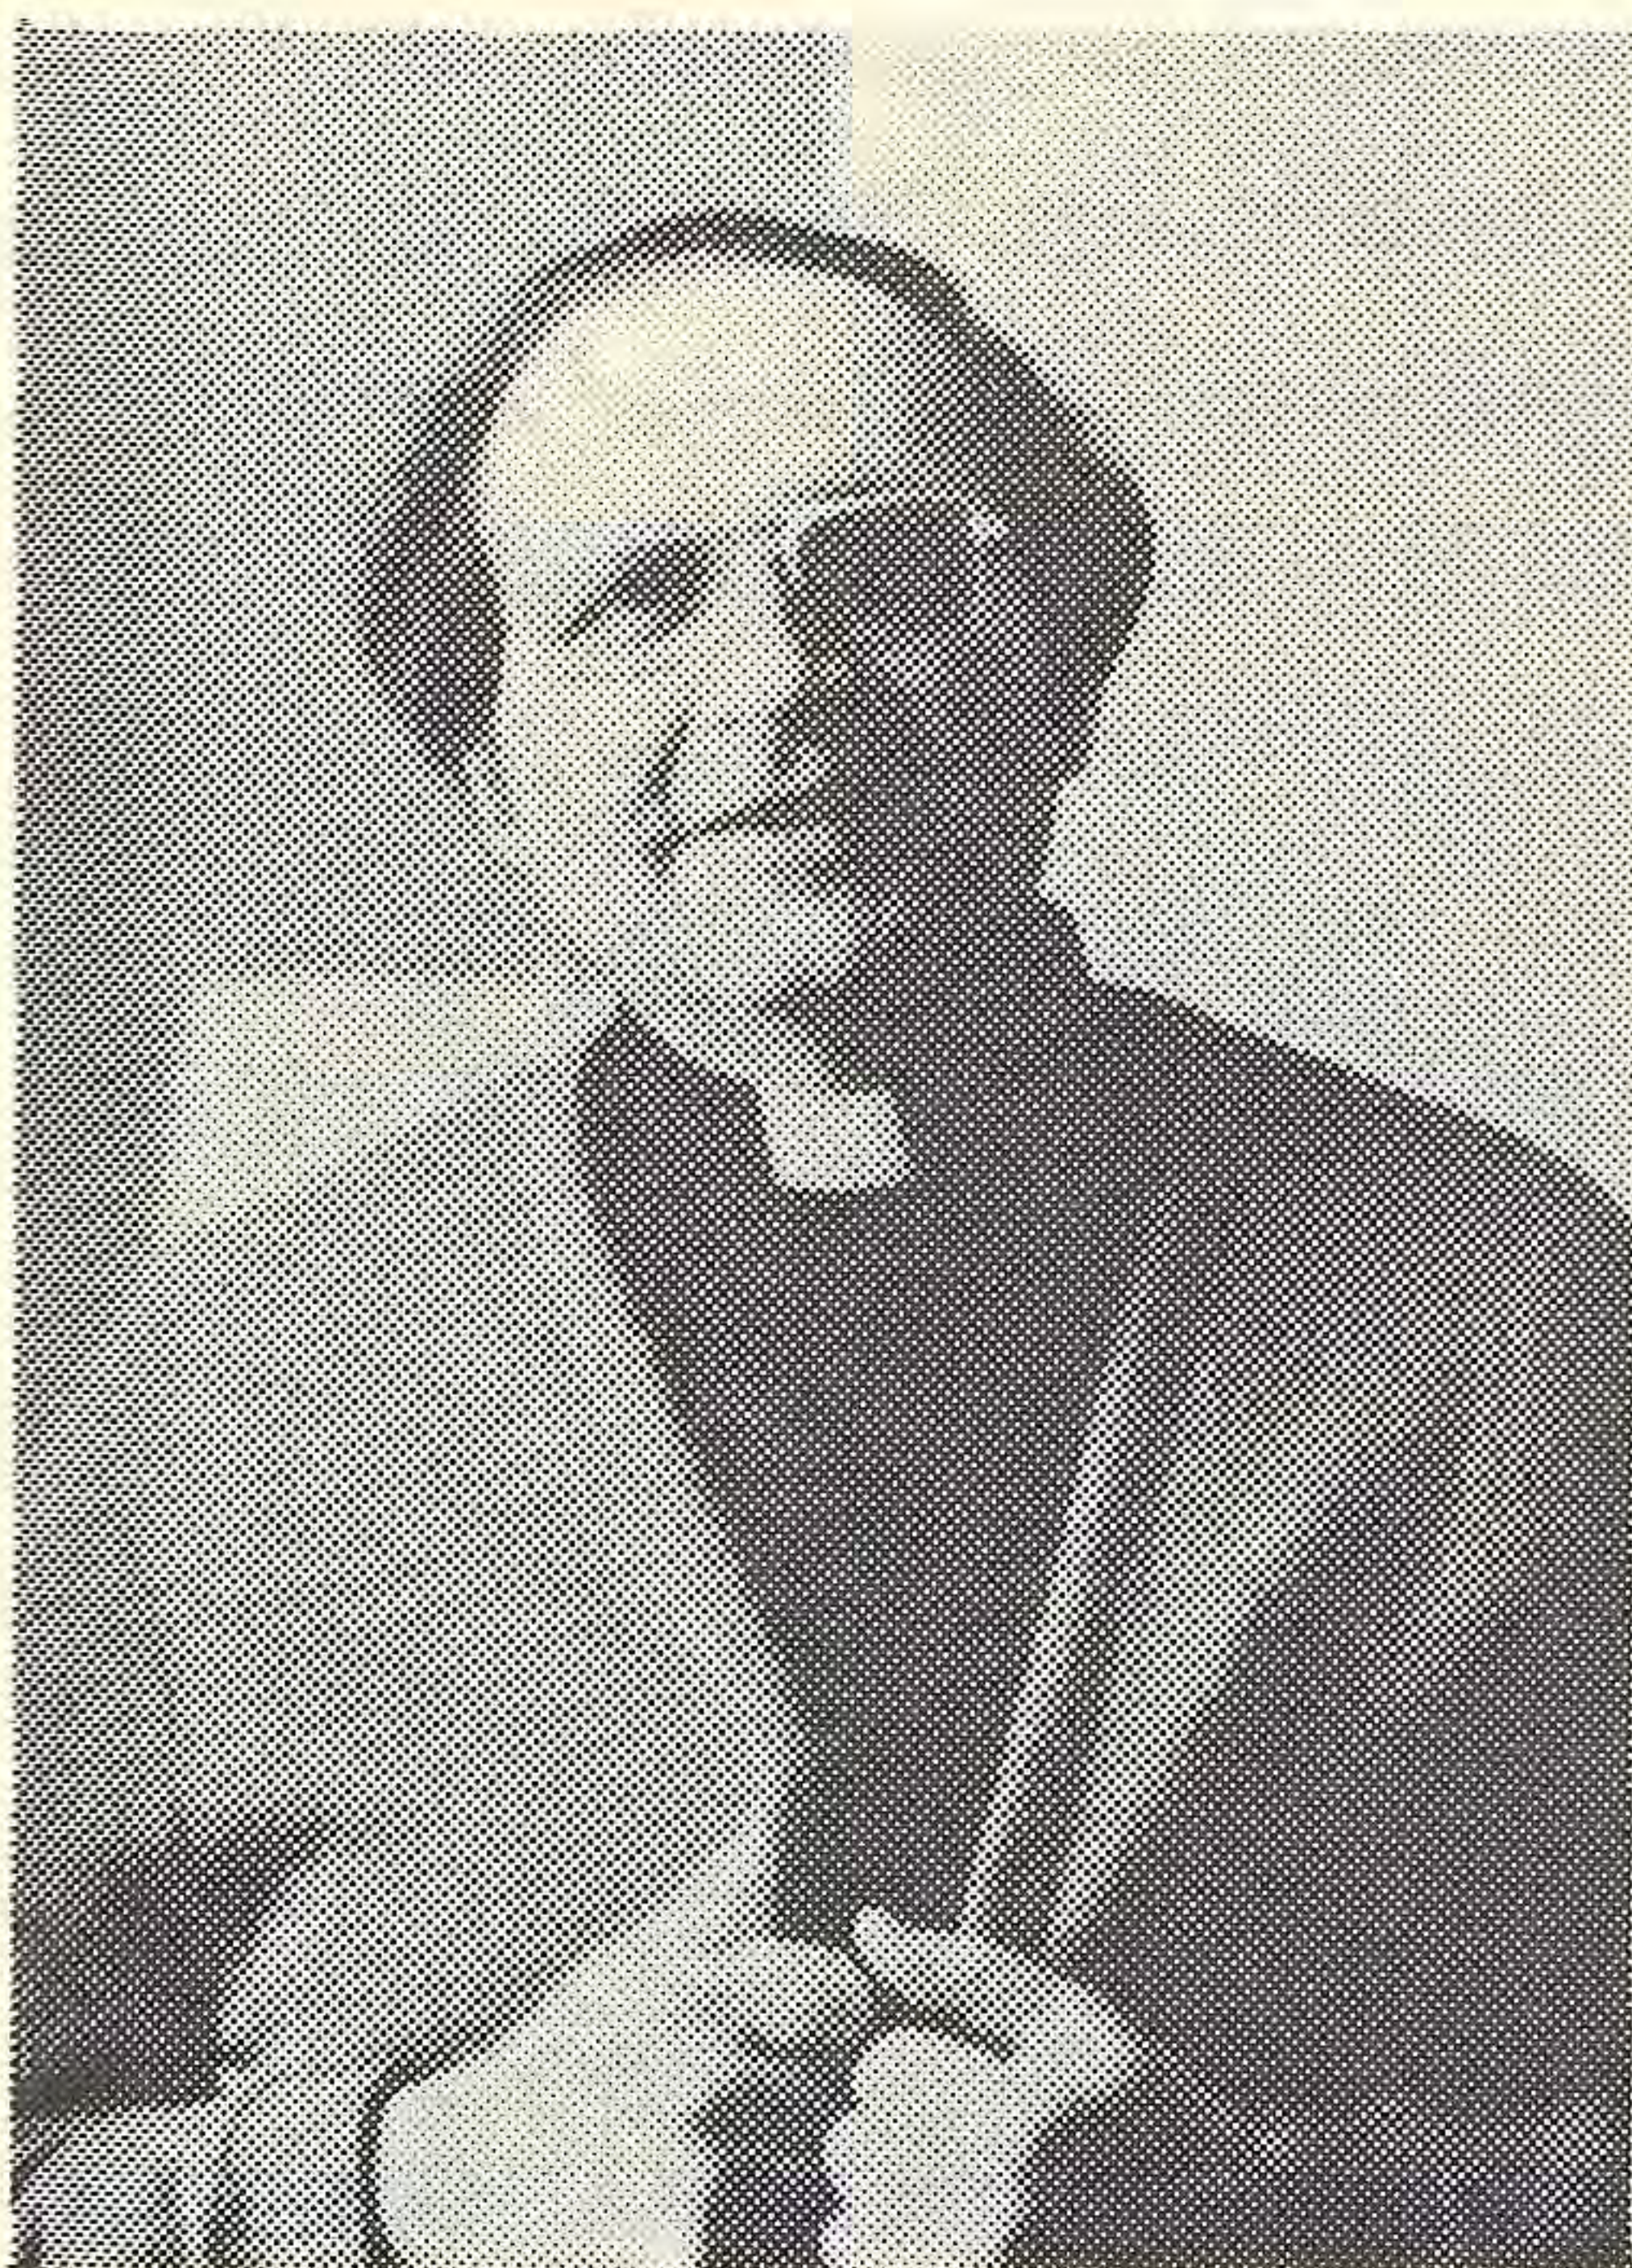

Msgr. Bukowski

*Msgr. was really busy this year.
Between the seniors missiology class,
trips to the hospital and saying Mass,
where did he find time to work?*

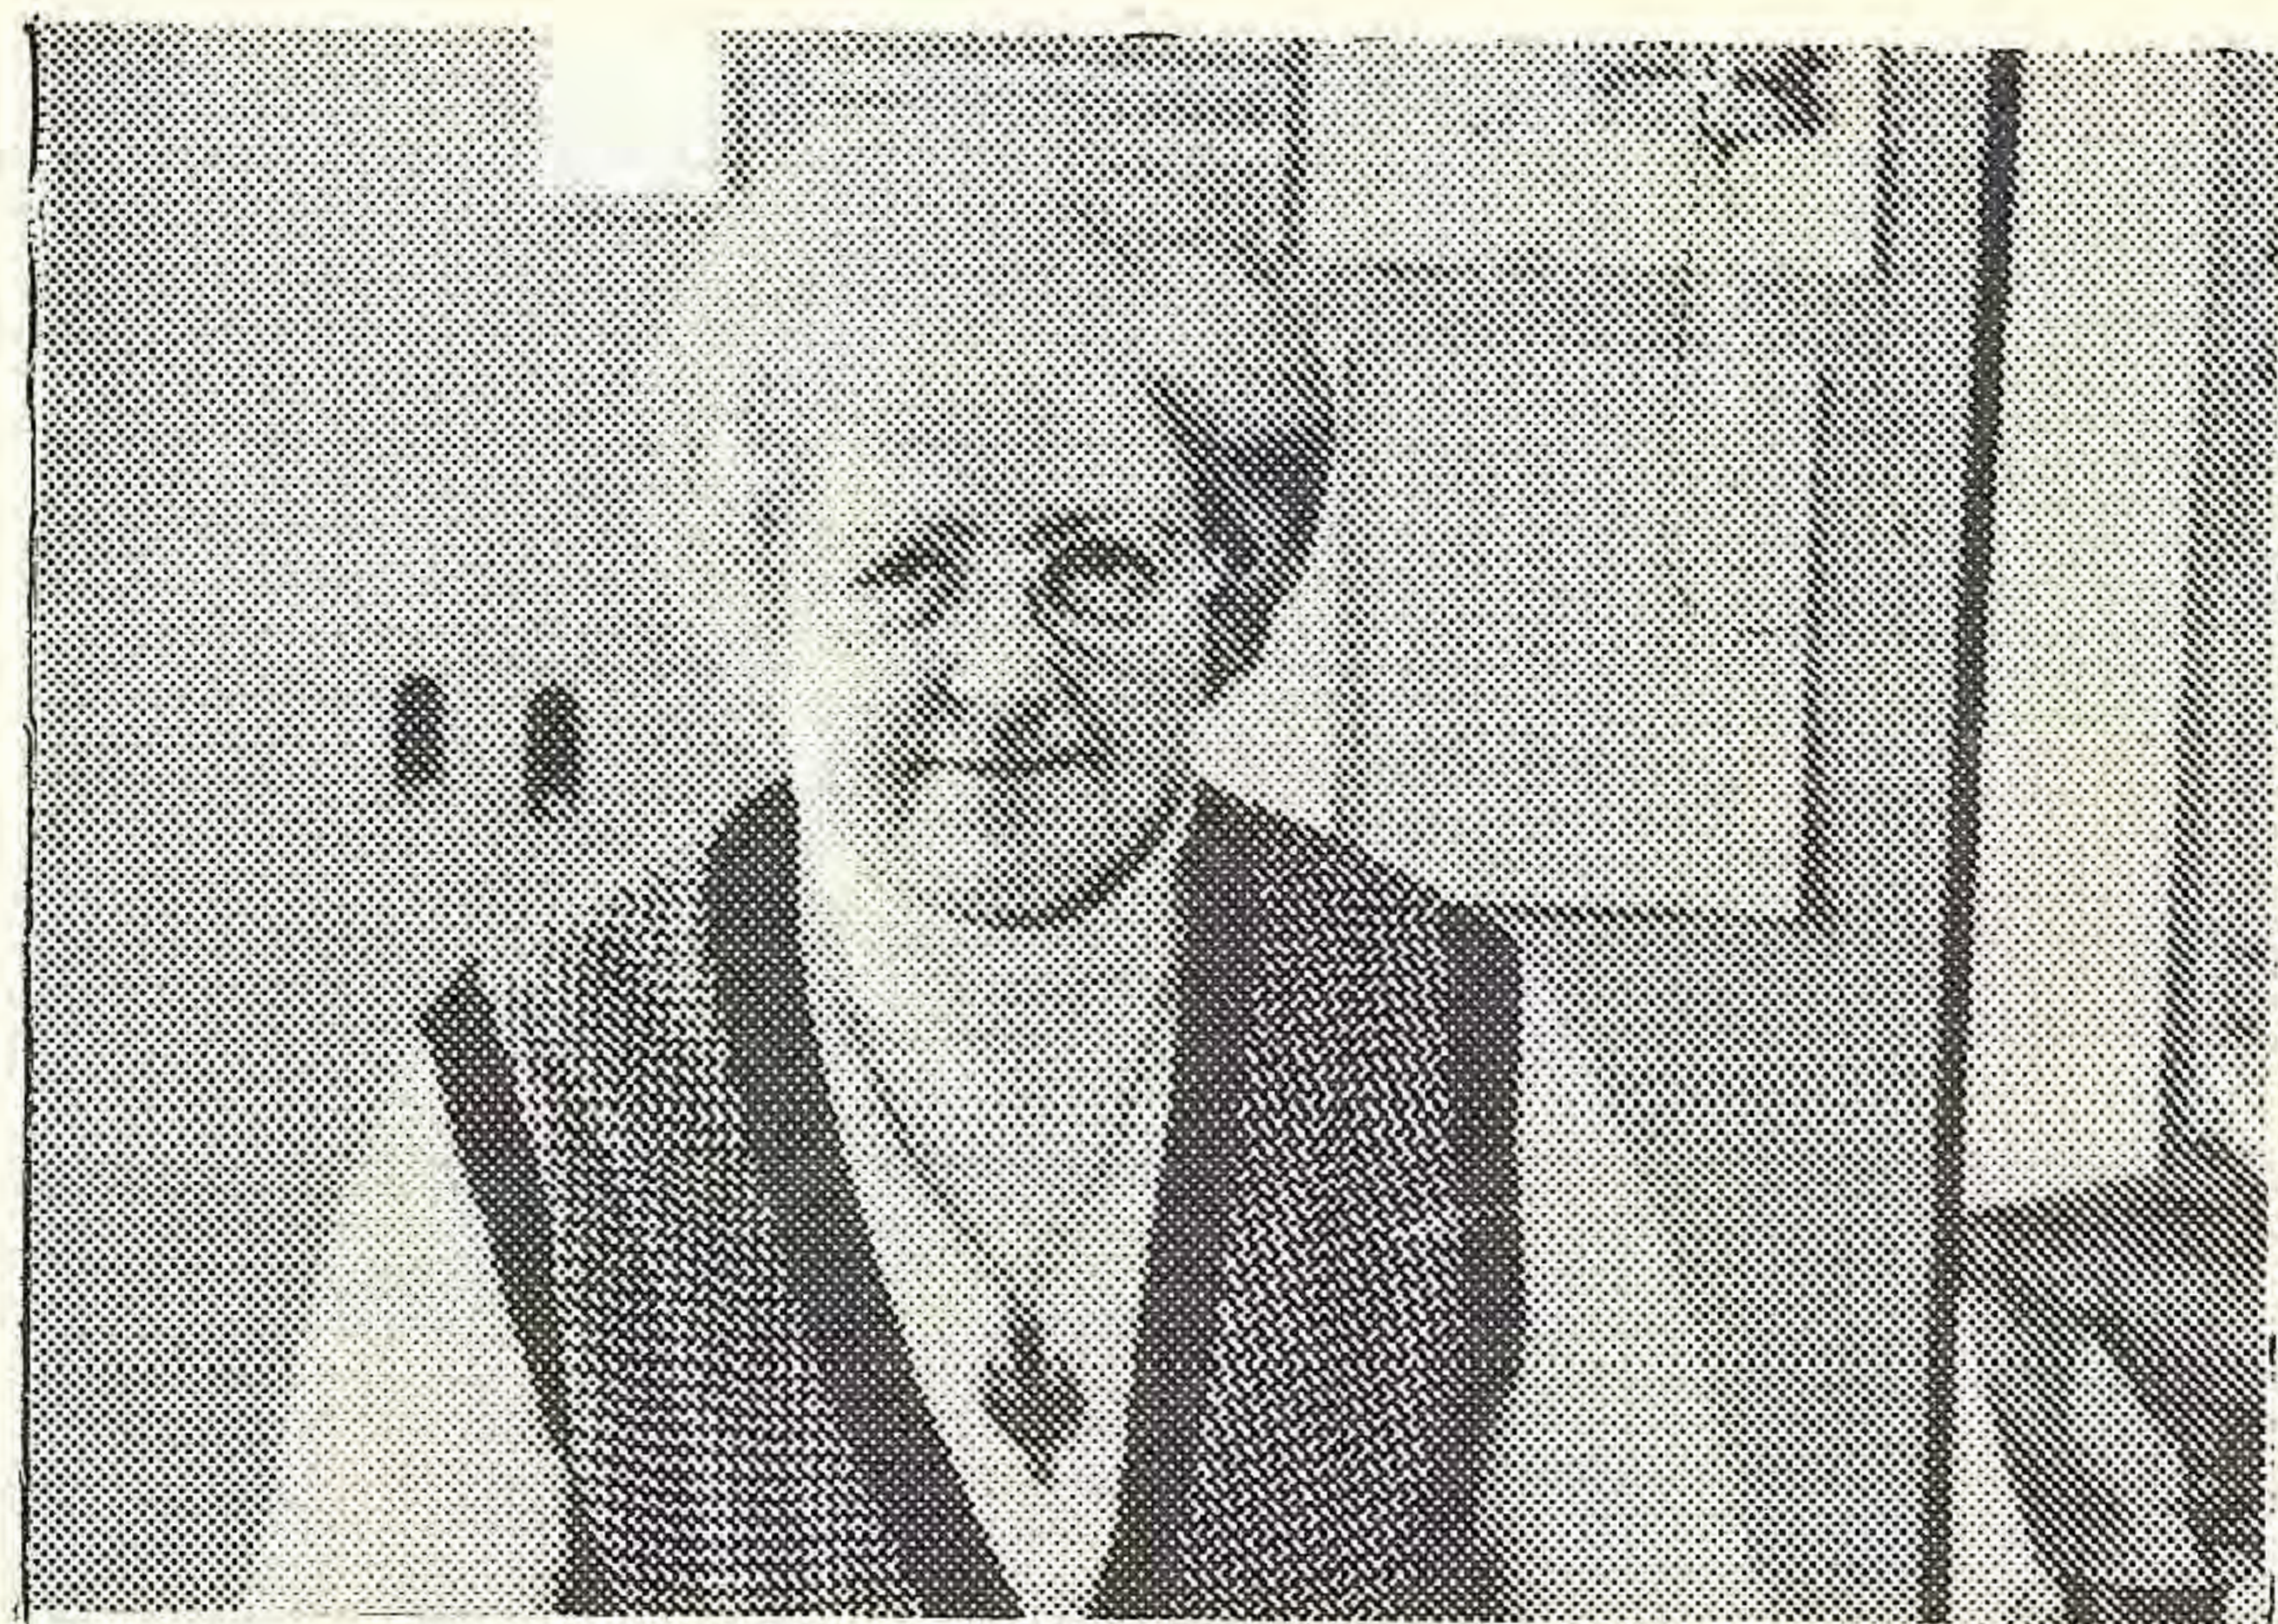

Ruth Butler

*Ms. Butler taught English 9–12, Student Publications, Drama, English Comp
and worked as a board member of the N.H.S.
This meant that some students got the envied chance of seeing her smiling face two or three times a day.*

Fr. Mike Danner

*Last year Fr. Danner taught the seniors.
This year he moved to the sophomore class where he taught religion. There's quite a difference between 4 students and 14, isn't there Fr.?
He also taught religion to the seniors in the second semester.*

Sr. Judith Rapin

*Whenever something was missing, Sr. always seemed to know where it was.
Her talent at decorating the chapel impressed many a visitor.*

THE STAFF

Msgr. Maloney

Monsignor was endowed with the awesome task of watching the freshmen in study hall. From the reports submitted, you could hear a pin drop.

Sr. Jean Catherine

*Though often times taken for granted,
Sr. was an invaluable asset in doing research papers.*

Geri Bagladi

*Serving as secretary and art instructor,
Ms. Bagladi enriched the walls of the Ad building with her own work and that of the art class.*

Sr. Maureen Sheehan

*Without these dedicated people
there would be no
St. Joe's.
These five kept the students well fed and made sure the priests' rooms were kept in a liveable condition.*

Sr. Ann Terence

KEEPING THE KETTLES COOKING

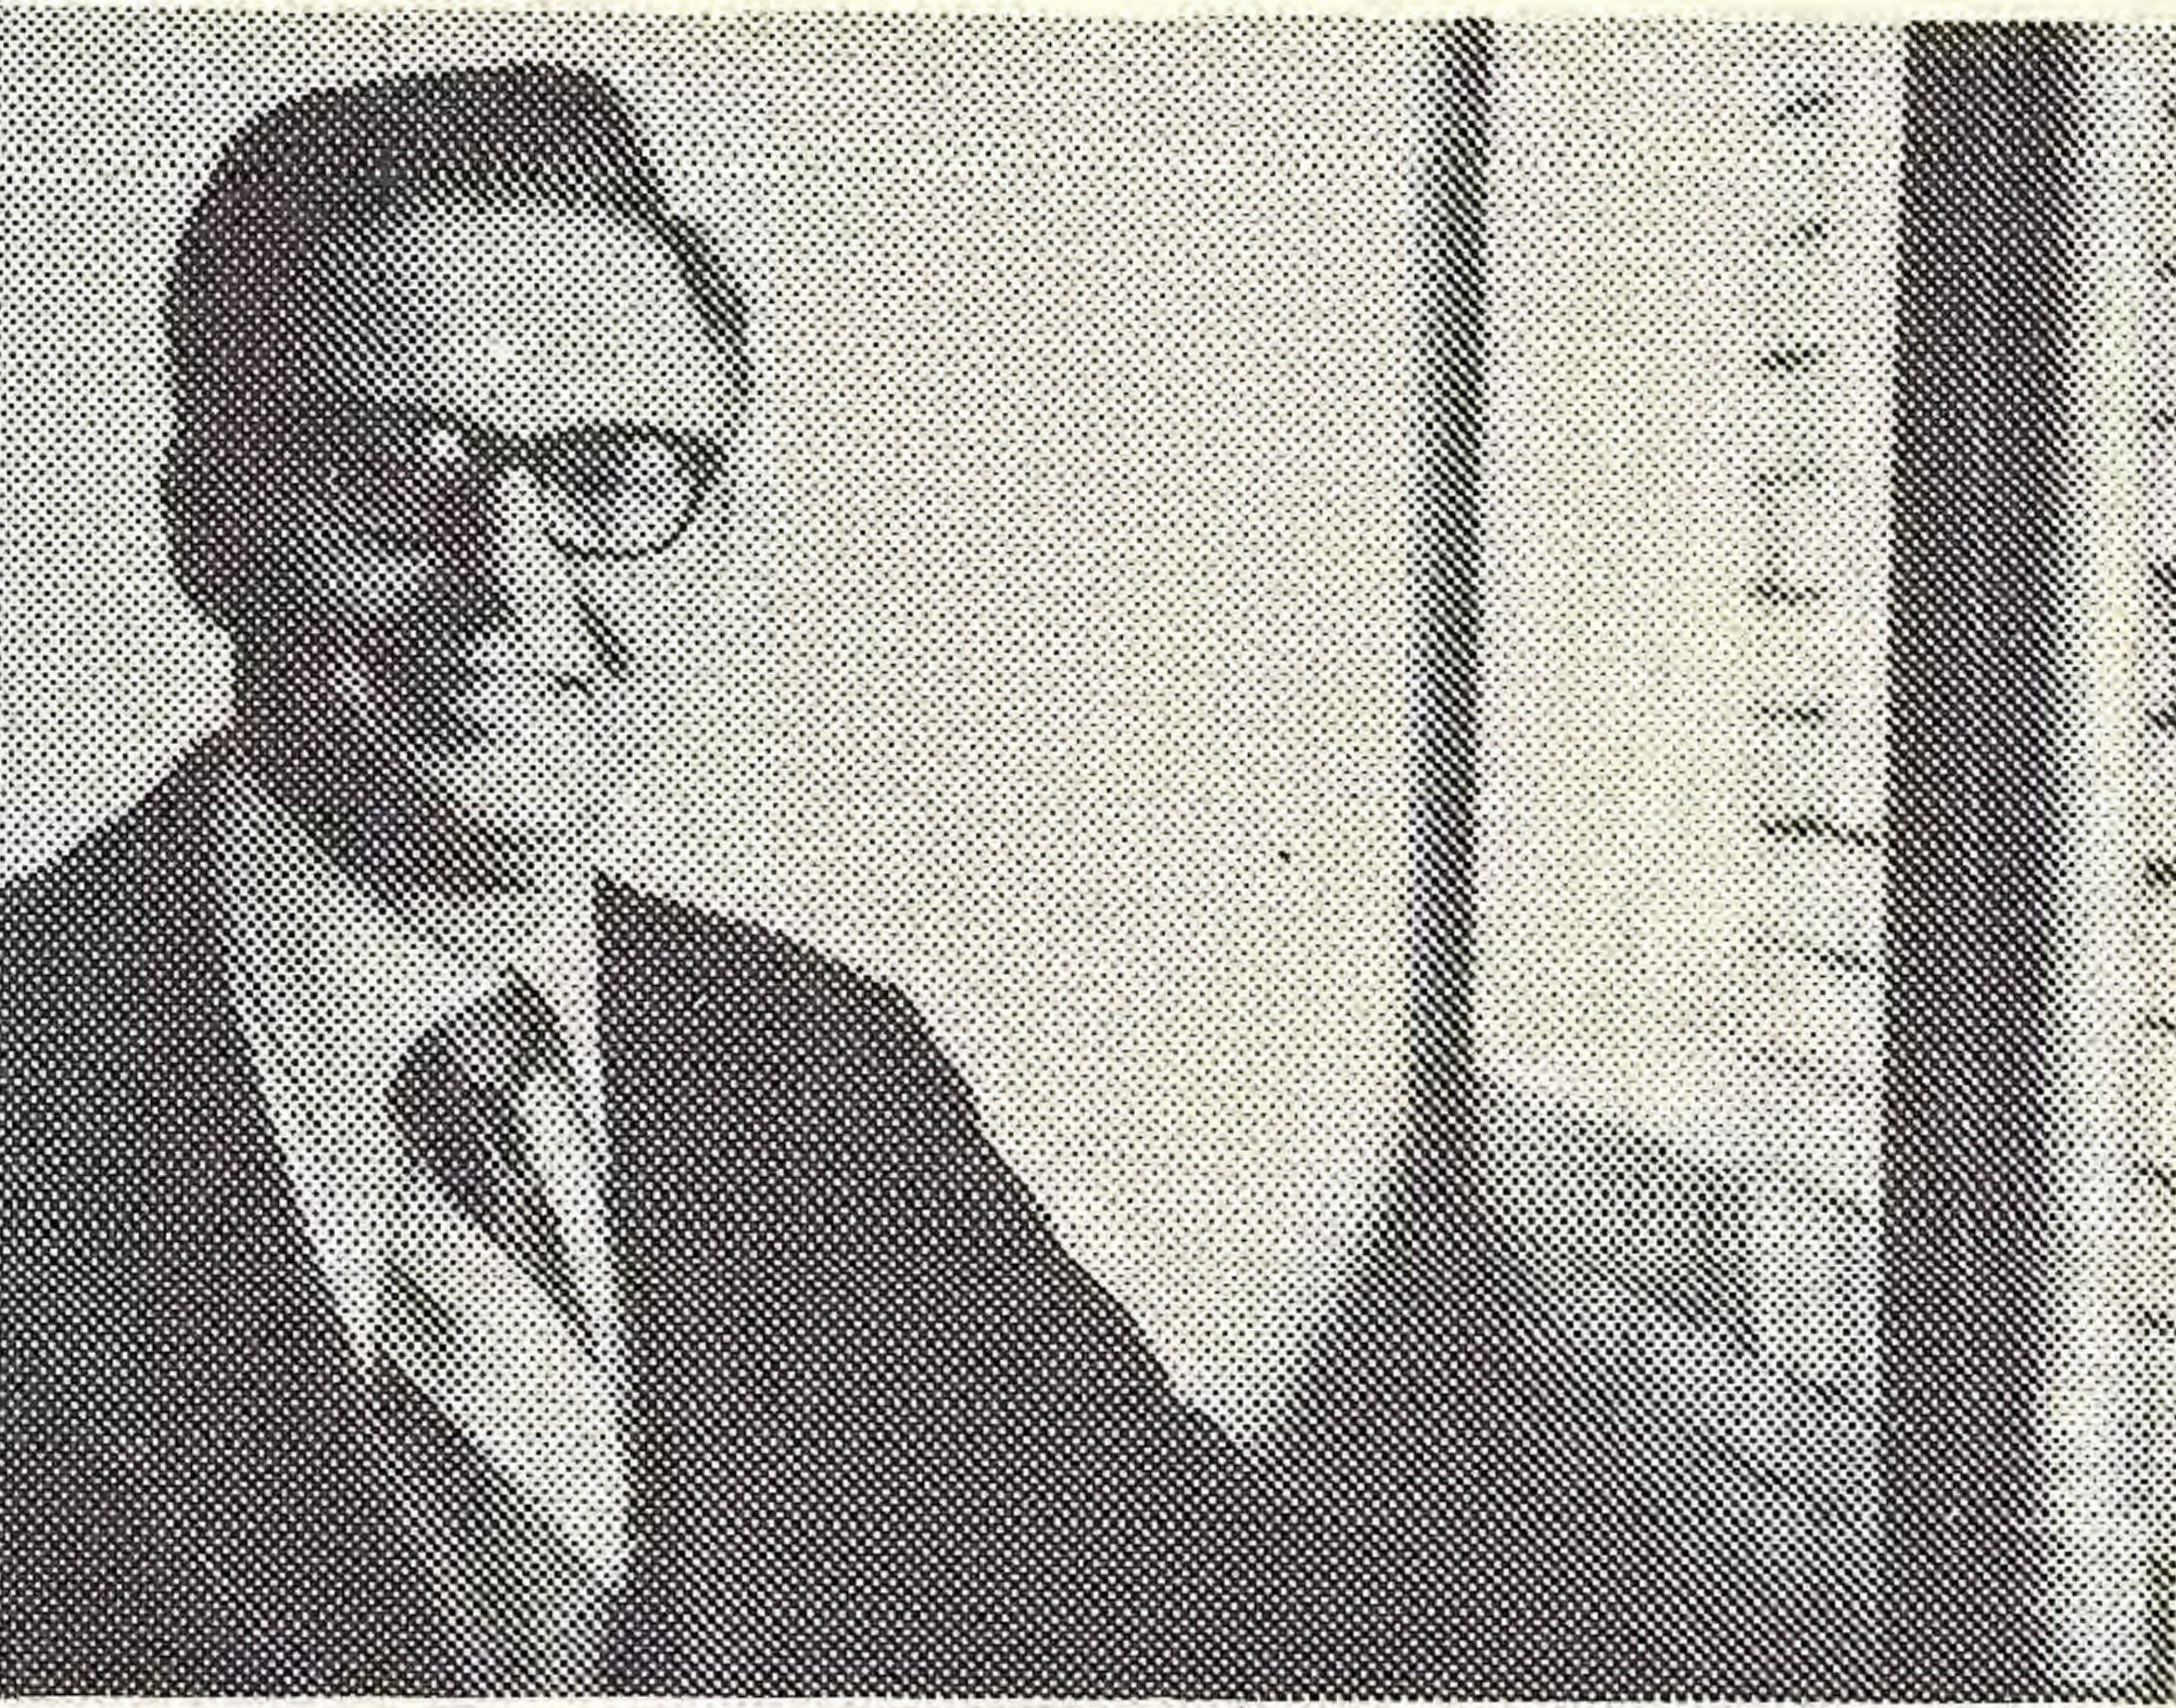

Mrs. Francis Kersjes

Mrs. Lauree Mosley

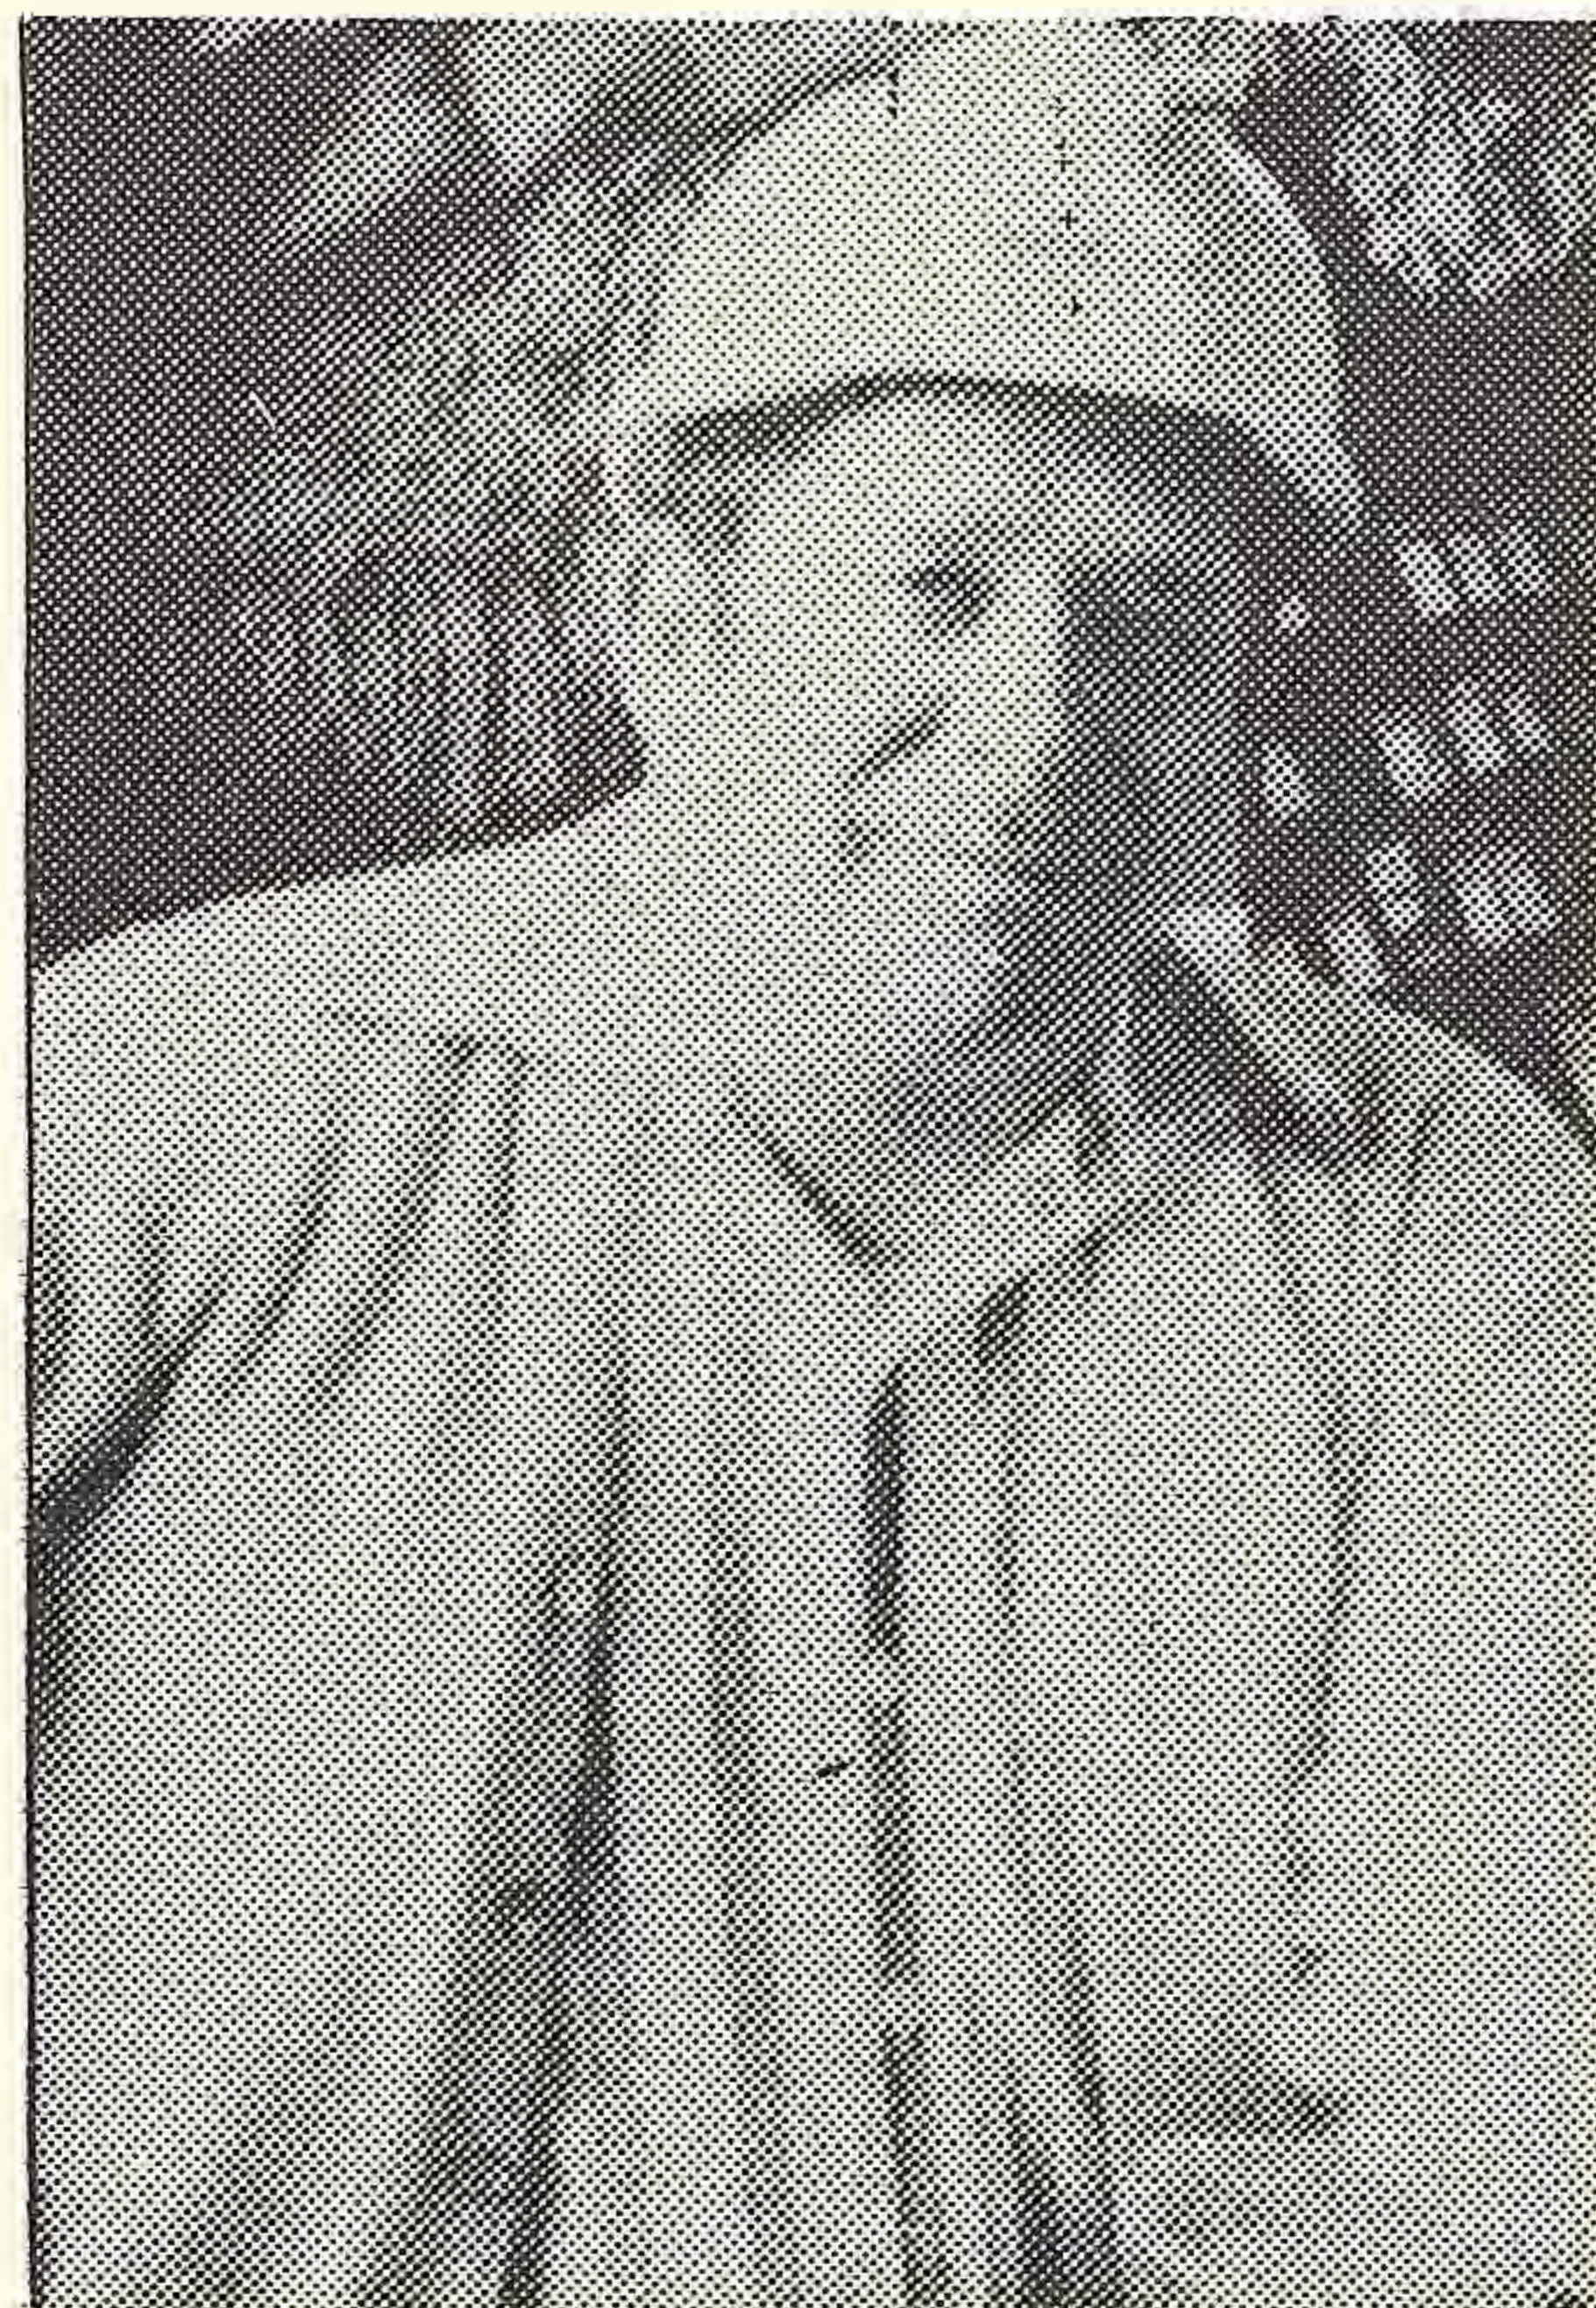

Mrs. Florence Vanderleest

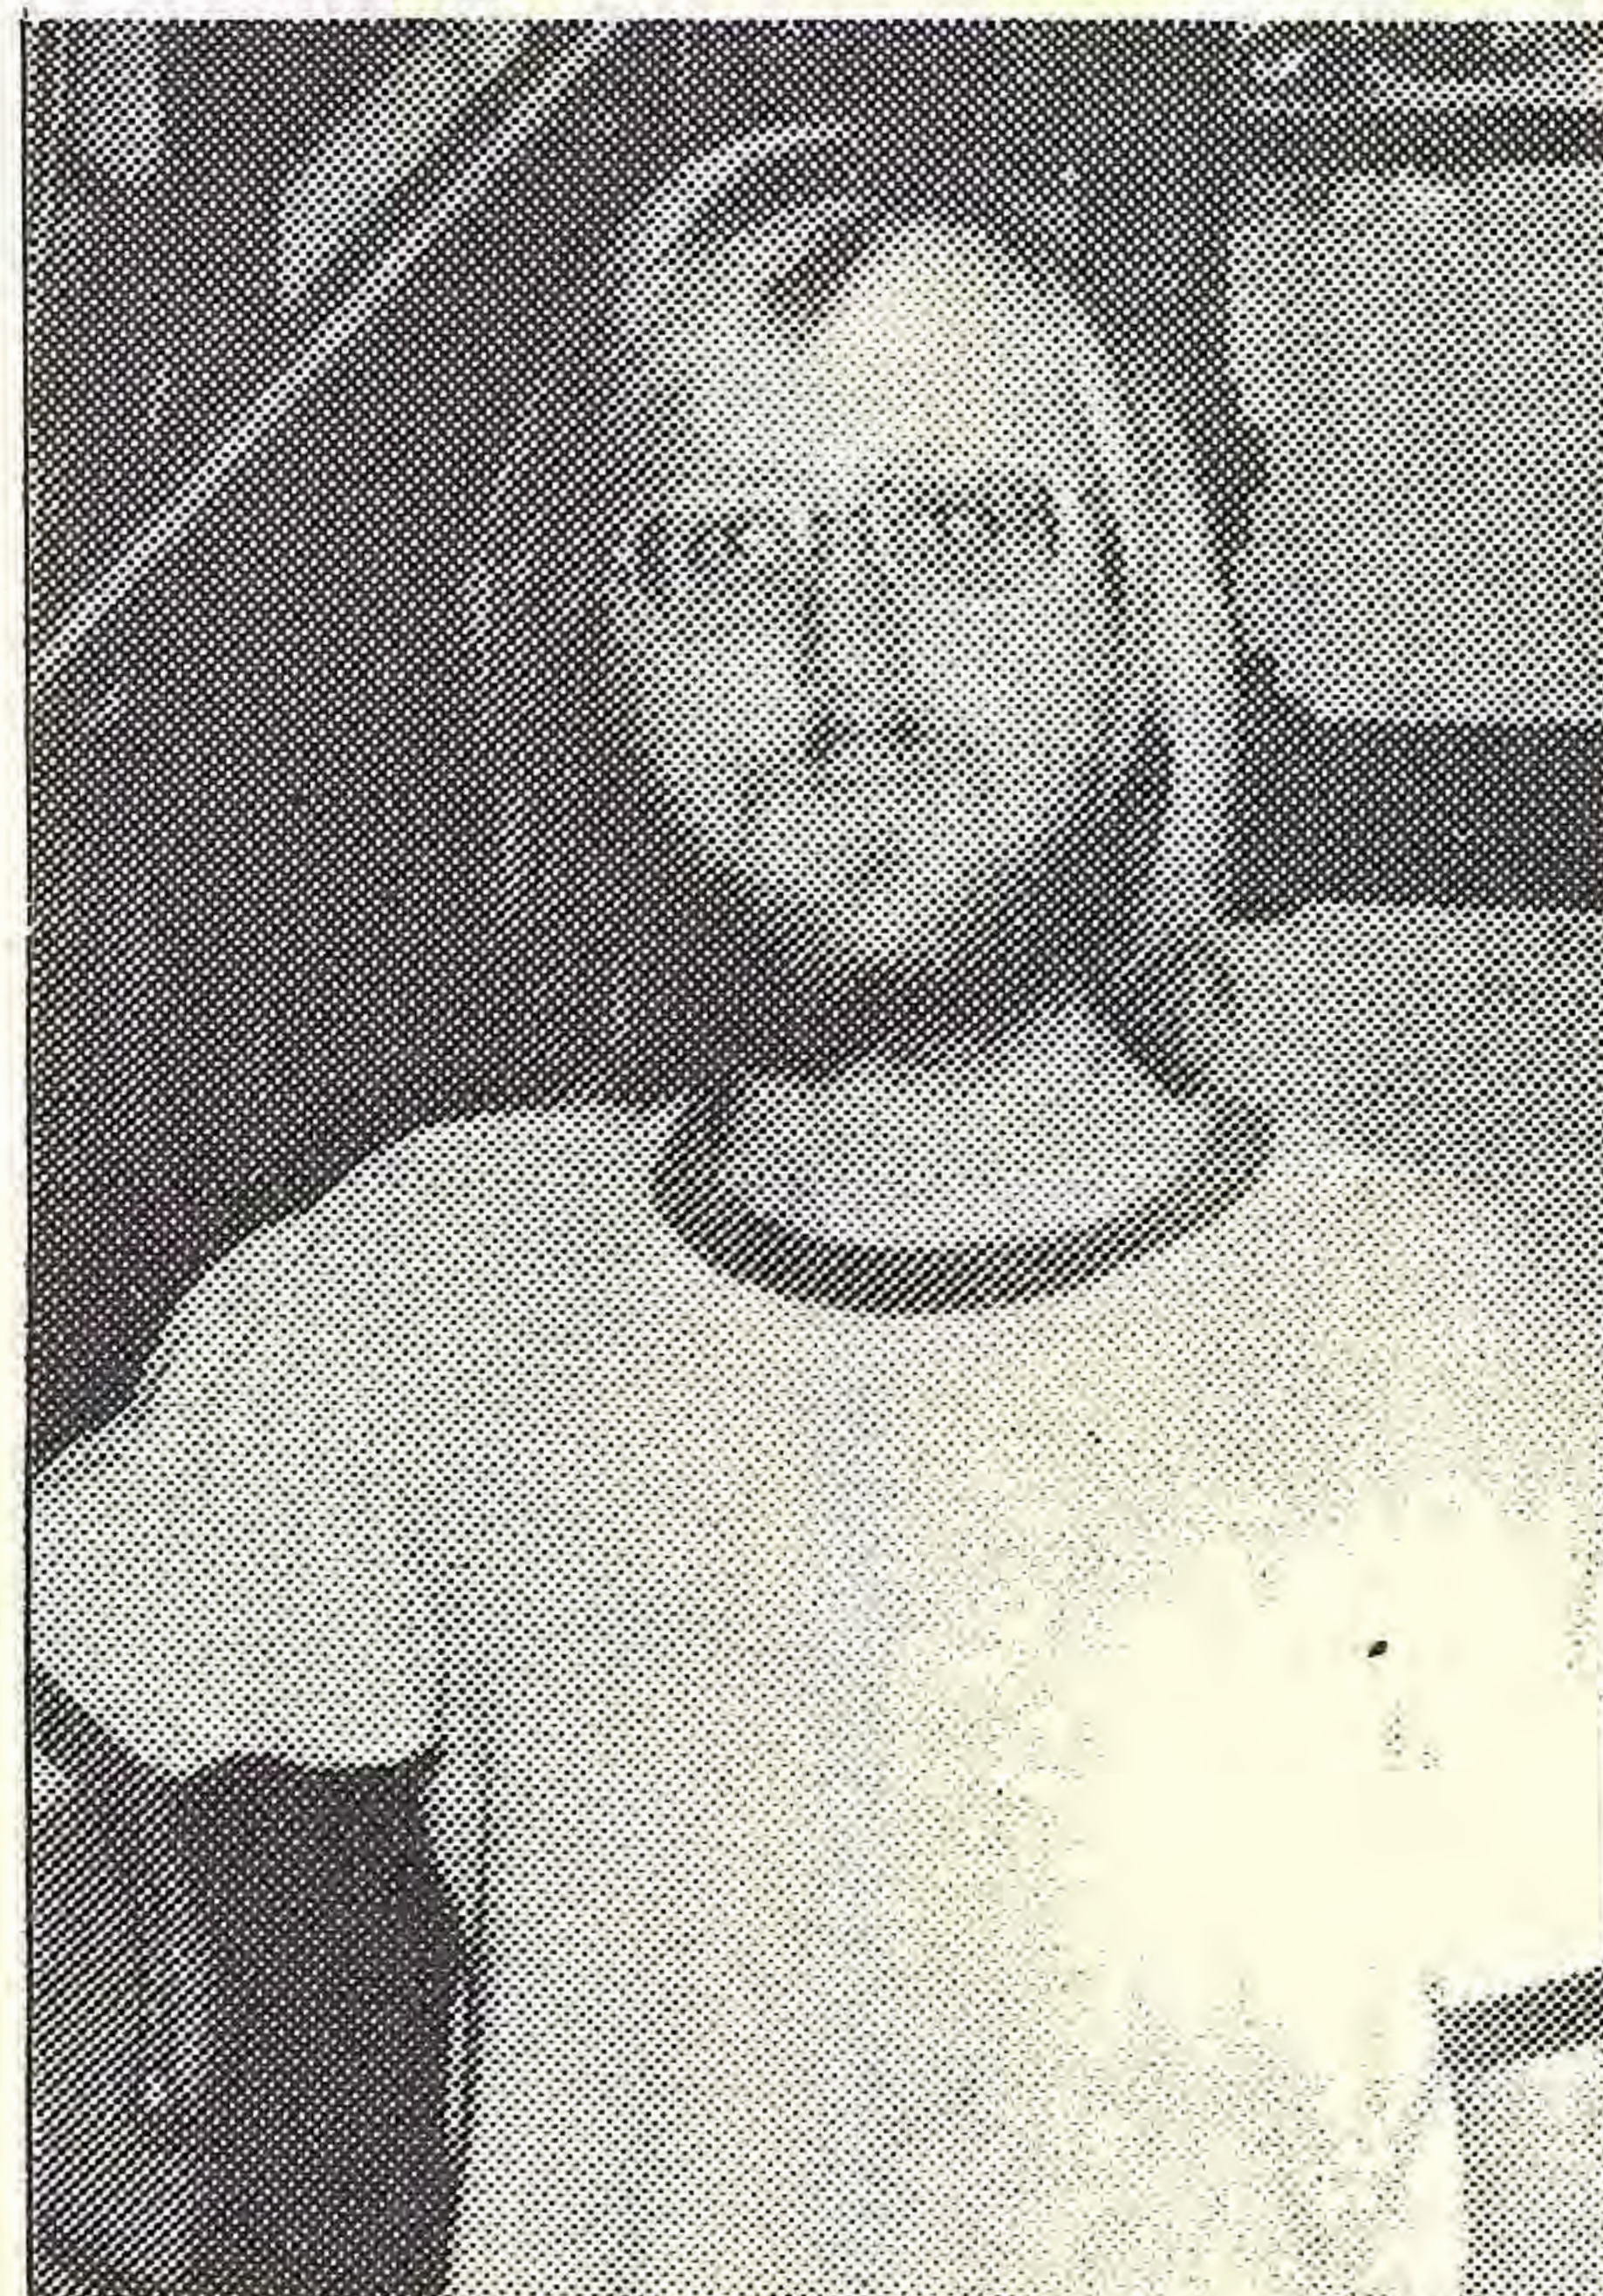

Mr. James Dean

These men are responsible for keeping St. Joe's well oiled. They do everything from sweeping the floors to making sure the electricity is getting through to the students clocks, so they can get up on time.

OPPONENTS

Mike Stein

Holder of 10 St. Joe's Records

At 1:06 left in the first half of the January 17th home game vs. Saugatuck, Mike Stein broke Bob Bunek's career scoring record of 623 points. Mike went on to finish his career with 743 points. Other records he has set are: most total rebounds in a career-607, most offensive rebounds, career-264, most defensive rebounds, career: 343, most defensive rebounds in a season: 123, most shots attempted, career: 678, most shots made, career: 290, best field goal percentage of a career: 42.8%, most free throws made, career: 163, and most personal fouls, career: 218.

Besides starting on the Varsity throughout his sophomore, junior and senior years, Mike played on the Varsity for the district game his freshman season. He was also captain of the Varsity his last two seasons.

The greatest honor Mike received came when he was named to the second all-state team. Therefore, after his senior year, Mike Stein ranked among the ten best Class D basketball players in Michigan.

Joe Fodor drives past Saranac's Theisen.

Arnie signals for a fair catch.

Rogues Experience Disappointing Season

As the regular season began, many of the players and followers of the team were looking for great things from the Varsity. Since only one player was lost from last year's team, which went 9–10, they felt the Rogue Varsity should have an impressive record at the season's end, and go a long way in the state tournament.

The Rogues finished the regular season 0–18 and all talk of playing for a state championship in Chrysler Arena in Ann Arbor had ended. When West Michigan Christian completely dominated the district game, any remaining light of hope was extinguished.

Despite injuries, illness, frustration and the resulting low spirits, the Rogues never gave up, but were always looking for a time when the breaks would go their way and they would experience victory. As the season wore on, they were constantly anticipating the moment when luck would change and they would be successful. Unfortunately, such a time never occurred.

The players on the Freshmen, Junior Varsity and Varsity teams would like to say "Thanks" to their coaches: Larry Piechocki, Dave Meyer, and Lew Clingman, for sticking behind us throughout the long, discouraging season.

The spiritual life at St. Joe's is an important part of the student's growth.

*There is a variety of daily exercises for the students to attend:
morning prayers, night prayers, mass and paraliturgies.*

RELIGION

*All eyes are on Fr. Ted as he preaches
the Word of God.*

Fr. Jim celebrates mass on an Outreach in Portland.

Fr. Ted celebrates a daily mass as the students concentrate with him.

From a common looking room . . .

. . . to a colorful comforting room . . .

. . . along with many uses.

Through the year,

students go to Parish Outreaches and help with the liturgies—supplying music, acolytes and priests

The chapel is used for more than liturgical events—work order.

ACADEMICS

*Academics is an integral part of the student's life.
Teachers make it that way.
From a 7:50 a.m. History Class to a 7:00 p.m. Bachelor Survival meeting, each student is busy with his own schedule.*

... and lastly, "Thou Shalt Not Cheat".

Lots of brothers and sisters make writing home a chore.
