BISHOP JOSEPH M. BREITENBECK

With a concerned smile and affable air about him, our new bishop, Bishop Joseph Breitenbeck, Servant of the people of the Grand Rapids Diocese, guides his people as one who sincerely cares.

In directing and continuing the saving work God has entrusted to his Apostles, the Bishop carries on his shoulders a heavy load. He is responsible to Christ himself for the spiritual welfare of the people. But even with this awesome responsibility and his busy schedule, the Bishop manages to personally share and express his concern and interest throughout the diocese. Already, several times this year, he has visited the Seminary and on occasion has celebrated the Eucharist with us.

So often in his sermons and discourses, Bishop Breitenbeck reminds the people of God 1970 that they are the ones who must set example, spread the Faith, and further the kingdom of God on earth. Due to the shortage of priests in our age, each individual must take a firm stand on his or her religion and must not be shaken by contemporary heresy or revolutionary theological theories. Only through prayer and true Catholic concern for the Church will the people of God survive in these trying times.

We pledge our allegiance and faithful concern for Christ's Church and support our Bishop through staunch Faith and true Christian love and ask God, in His infinite goodness, to bless and guide him in years to come.

Monsignor James P. Moran RECTOR

"The priest is a man whom God lovingly calls to do the unique work of Jesus Christ in today's world. The work of Christ is to bring the Father's love to all His children. It is a work which brings a share of His own life to those who live in darkness without him ... a work of love and sacrifice ... work of the Redeeming Christ." And certainly Msgr. James P. Moran, rector of St. Joseph's Seminary, is one who truly lives a priestly life, a life of service dedicated to young men studying for the priesthood. A service which has kept him busy for over 25 years.

In forming the student as a Christian leader, a man of prayer with concern for others, working in a true spirit of cooperation, understanding, and sacrifice, Monsignor (in coordination with the faculty) serves as Father to all the seminarians and offers personal guidance to each student so that ultimately his true vocation may be realized.

In recent years, under Monsignor's direction, the Seminary has undergone many changes. Changes that have benefited the entire community of St. Joe's in helping the seminarians become involved in the world they will one day be serving. Through careful planning and hard work, Monsignor's dream, the Christopher House, has become a realization. The Christopher House is a college annex to St. Joe's where freshmen and sophomore college Seminarians live in a seminary community while attending Aquinas College.

We thank Monsignor Moran for his sincere interest in the seminary and his tremendous work with seminarians. May God reward him.

RENOWNED HEALER RETIRES!

Sister Christopher came to the United States after receiving her education as a registered nurse in her homeland, Germany. She wisely chose an internship of one year at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Chicago to improve her English and to learn the American way of life, treatments, and nursing techniques. After passing the R.N. State Board examination, she entered the Marywood novitiate expecting to serve in a community health care facility.

A community health care facility? Yes, at Marywood. But St. Joe's? Fortunately, yes. So in the mid 1930's Sister Chris left the mother house to join the community at St. Joseph Seminary. When asked what was her happiest memory, she replied: "They are all happy memories but I guess the best part was just being mother to those kids."

Reflectively Sister recalls the time when she had some 80 boys down in bed with the flu. That's a heap of sick boys in anybody's books, but "the Fathers would volunteer to help for an hour or two whenever they had the time." "I always had full support of the Fathers in anything I suggested for the boys." From time to time boys were assigned to be assistant infirmarian (one of these was Bishop McKinney). Sister also recalls when the present Bishop Salatkka, then a lad with a high fever, begged Sister to "just let me go outside and cool off!"

Although Sister was never able to realize her desire for full time hospital work, she is grateful for the eight summers spent at the hospital in Santa Rosa, New Mexico. Realizing that caring for the needs of many active boys held an element of unpredictable problems, Sister was summoned by the physician there, whenever there was some medical situation which would be particularly helpful to her in her work. "In this way I was able to keep abreast of new things in the field of medicine as well as brush up on bedside care of the patient."

Sister Christopher's many happy memories have been recently highlighted by the blessing and dedication of the Christopher House. Shortly before the ceremony began, Bishop Breitenbeck called Sister to the platform beside him. To her surprise, sort of under her breath, Sister said, "Oh, no". The Bishop replied jokingly, "Obey your Bishop", and then added, "I can't make you a priest, but I can confer this", and handed her the purple sash.

In the program for this occasion we read this note:

In a very special way we dedicate (this house) to the person who gave us our new name, Sister Mary Christopher Steinfarth, OP, who has given many years of service.

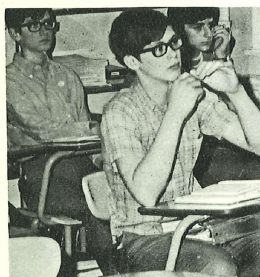

It is significant that the symbol chosen to represent the Christopher House is the open hand bearing the Christ Candle, Christ Bearer. Surely Sister Christopher spent thirty-three years of bearing Christ, serving Christ in the many young boys who grew spiritually and physically because of her dedicated years of service.

Our Seminary Family will never forget the joy, love, and understanding that was the life-style of Sister Christopher. She remains in the hearts of every one of us and will be always remembered as truly, A Christ-Bearer.

This place in time
 Is all I know.
 Behind is past,
 Ahead is go,
 Eternities both
 With me between.
 This slice I know
 Is thin and lean.
 This place in time
 Is little more
 Than what it takes
 To close a door,
 The sharpest note
 A cricket sings,
 The flickering of
 A wild bird's wing.
 I'll not regret
 That left behind.
 What lies ahead
 I will not mind.

Ask any Seminarian what he thought of the Student Council. You won't get a straight answer. But when you end up the year spending all but 17¢ of the S.C. Treasury, you either have an active Student Council or an embezzling Treasurer. The latter is not true and if you're ever in Brazil he'll tell you so himself.

The Grand Rapids Student Council. Yep, the Grand Rapids Student Council.

VITALITY FEST

What is the normal procedure for recovering a lost seminarian? Well first you summon up all the patience you can muster (This will come in handy after the third search turns up nothing). Secondly buy an extra candy bar or something of that nature in case you run out of food on your safari. Then you lunge forward on your difficult and dangerous mission. Where could that Seminarian be? In the three court basketball gym? No. The field? A quick scan of grounds shows he is not playing football, baseball, or softball; that he is not high jumping, long jumping, or pole vaulting; that he is not climbing trees. (Here you devour your chocolate bar because of the hunger you have worked up.) Next you forge on into the ad. building. Now he is cornered! Charging into the den toward the pool table you only make a fool of yourself and realize your friend is no where in sight. So red-faced you dash into the T.V. room making such noise and chaos that you receive the kind of whole-hearted attention you would rather not have, but would love to use your still missing friend as a shield. Chapel, Music Room, hifi lounge, no where. In despair you gloomily walk into the studyhall to catch up on Lil' Abner and grieve the loss of a friend. A friend whom you sit down next to, and who has been studying faithfully all night. And then you breathe a sigh of relief for that which was lost had been found. May he rest in peace.

Times have changed.

All my friends and good times being past,

I live with only memories

Of times eternally today.
